The doors never closed when Lovejoy bought the restaurant from its previous owners Erwin and Mary Gaa until January when the Gaas had regularly vacationed, and regular customers were used to living without the German fare they for the month. Lovejoy used the time to do some remodeling and to add a touch or two making the restaurant more his own. The restaurant makes its grand reopening on Feb. 1.

Though the remodeling done in the areas seen by customers is minor, changes to the kitchen are more significant. "The operational part of the restaurant has been updated to make it cleaner and safer," said Lovejoy. "The front room will look about the same, but it's been freshened up."

He added, "My purpose in buying the restaurant was to keep it the same." But not so much so as to prevent a revamping of the wine list said to have "a nice selection of wines from all over the world," and revising one of the menu items with recipe secrets he brought back with him from his

Antioch First party challenges independent candidate's petition

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Some members of the Antioch First party are challenging the petition filed by Robert McCarty for candidacy as trustee of the village. Any objections to the nominating petitions are to be filed with the local election official within five business days of the close of the filing period (5 p.m. on Jan. 23).

"Even a quick review of Mr. McCarty's petition shows that it contains the signatures of individuals living outside the corporate limits of the village," said Ken Karasek. "Although these individuals may be legally registered voters, they are not qualified to sign a petition for anyone running for a position on the Antioch village board because they do not live in the village."

Dorothy Larson added, "The petition contains signatures of many other individuals at addresses with the village, but who apparently are not legally registered voters."

A copy of the objections must be sent by registered mail, or receipted personal delivery to the candidate against whose petition was filed. A meeting of the electoral board is then to be held no less than three days or more than five days after the receipt of the objector's petitions by the chairman of the electoral board.

"We filed this petition objertsbecause the members of our pid wish to see that election laws an upheld and that only properly qualified candidates appear on the ballot," said Tom Baba. "Other possible cases of signature irregularities also will be reviewed."

Three candidates campaign together, fourth uncommitted

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Taso Maravela, independent candidate for mayor in the April 3 election, announced he will campaign together with Scott Pierce and Robert McCarty who are both hoping to fill positions as trustee on the village board. He said, "We common share about concerns our community and will work together address the issues of sensible development, rebuilding streets, storm control, water improved refuse and removal public employee issues." McCarty, a local businessman said, "Sensible, controlled growth is important to the future of Antioch and I will seek input from all the citizens to update the village's comprehensive plan." Additionally, he expressed interest in promoting intergovernmental agreements with other taxing bodies and said, "The schools, townships and Lake County government must work together for the benefit of all the taxpayers."

Pierce said he wants to be part of a village board that communicates with the residents. He said, "It's time for the village board to respond to the needs of the citizens, and properly. plan for a future which will complement the existing charm of our community.

Though independent candidate for trustee Bob Caulfield's thoughts echo some of the other three's, he has not officially been asked to campaign with them and isn't sure if he would choose to join them.

Caulfield was attracted to Antioch about a year and one-half ago when he moved here from California where he had lived for the past 18 years with his wife and four children. He said, "We like what we saw, especially the small downtown area and some of the housing developments."

He explained that he moved around a lot as child due to his father's job, and had the opportunity to see how many different towns were run. "I think Antioch is at a

Lions donate over $21,000 to Rescue Squad

Organization will also donate about $15,000 for Brook Wetland and Entertainment Center

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

The Antioch Lions Club presented the Antioch Rescue Squad with a check for more than $21,000 to go toward paying for four Lifepack 12 defibrillators/monitors. President of the club Adam Zakroczymski presented the check to Antioch Rescue Squad Chief Wayne Sobczak.

Last year the club agreed to pay for the cost of the new life saving equipment for the Rescue Squad and this was partial fulfillment of that promise. Zakroczymski said, "This equipment is very sophisticated, and we knew it would take us longer than one year to raise enough money to cover the cost."

Sobczak, thrilled with donation, said the money covers about onethird of the cost. "They work very hard (club members) and when they get their minds set, they can do just about anything," said Sobczak. "The Lions Club has always been the backbone to our cardio life support system. Each time they help us, they are also extending their help out to the entire Antioch Community."

"We raised the money with $1 from each of our chicken dinners at the barbecue going toward this cause, from the proceeds of our 50/50 raffle, from private contributions and from the wild game dinner held at Maravela's last fall," said Zakroczymski. "Money from the chicken barbecue and from the 50/50 will go toward the equipment again this year. The wild game dinner is only held every other year, but we'll think of something else."

On Feb. 26, the Lions Club will make a donation of better than $15,000 to the William E. Brook Memorial Wetlands and Entertainment Center at the Colony House in Trevor, Wis. "Half of the money from the wild game dinner will go to the Bill Brooks entertainment center," said Zakroczymski.

Who is packing this kind of stuff?

section the bit Chicago Sunday paper and a piece titled: "A packing list for a trip to bountiful warmth," peaked my interest. I was in the midst of preparing for an upcoming winter getaway to Florida and was hoping to discover some well-hidden secret to remembering everything a family of four might need for such an excursion. I thought the article would contain helpful tips on what to bring and what not to bring and maybe even have an actual "check list." of needed items.

As quickly as I could, I turned to page 22 and was greeted with a full-size picture of a pair of purple Chanel terry pool sliders (i.e. a flat piece of shoe leather with a strap for one's big toe at a pricey $285). On the facing page was a full page picture of a Surahbi pareo (a glorified beach wrap costing $380). Not to be discouraged, I anxiously turned the page, hoping to be confronted with the newsworthy story and the hinted at packing list. Page 24 contained two teeny-weeny bikinis, no price listed, a $60 CD case, a $2,140 aquamarine necklace to accentuate your beach wear and a Emilio Pucci cosmetic case for a mere $105. Page 25 held a picture of Dior sunglasses at $198 as well as Chanel sunglasses for $265. Last, but not least, there was every vacationers must-have deck of playing cards by Kate Spade for $20. And that my friends was the entire contents of the article.

Not a single word of text, or dialogue. No interviews with experts, or tips from the wise traveler. Just four pages of pictures of overpriced foo-foo items, not a sensible, practical, worthwhile, accessory for an 8 or 10-year-old to wear, let alone any other sane adult. I did a little mental math and figured if I purchased all the above items, minus one pair of sunglasses, (after all I don't want to be precocious and think I need two pairs at $200 a pop), I would have to spend another $3,800 on top of the airline tickets, hotel accommodations and rental car costs. Now remember, that price still didn't include abathing suit, which they failed to state where the two pictured could be purchased, which just bummed me out. This explains why the women modeling the bathing suits are so thin; they can't afford to buy food after they pay those exorbitant prices for their vacation necessities.

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

Sorry, that is not the way we travel, its flip-flops and old T-shirts beach cover-ups all the way. The sunglasses with the electrical tape holding the nosepiece together will have to do, and I'll be sure and enjoy the deck of playing cards borrowed from our friendly airline. This way we will have a little money to buy a few souvenirs and maybe a tropical drink with an umbrella in it. Besides a bathing suit with no price listed is probably DRY CLEAN ONLY, which leads me to wonder if a $2,140 necklace is really water-proof?

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle."

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

Rules of the road courses offered at township office

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Secretary of State Jesse White, in cooperation with township supervisor Stephen Smouse, is offering a "Rules of the Road" review course, free of charge, to residents in the Antioch area.

The course prepares applicants to pass the Illinois driver's license renewal examination by keeping them informed of current vision and driving ability portions of the test, and by studying the material for the written test and road sign examination.

Smouse said someone from the secretary of state's office runs the course. "It's mostly lecture with practice," he said. "Depending on the instructor, there may be a video or AV material."

Smouse added that in some cases, but not all, insurance companies give a discount to those who have taken the course.

The course is given monthly on the fourth Friday of the month except in November: Feb. 23, March 23, April 27, May 25, June 22, July 27, Aug. 24, Sept. 28, Oct. 26 and Dec. 28. The class runs from 9:30-11:30 a.m.

"We've been doing these courses for a long time," said Smouse. "It's open to anybody, but it's mainly to help out the seniors because they have to take the test more often to keep their driver's licenses."

To sign up for one of the 2001 courses, register at the township office by calling 395-3378.

New spot for women's club luncheon

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

The Northern Lake County Christian Women's Club will be holding its Feb. 8 meeting at a new location: the Colony House in Trevor, Wis. "We're a Lake County club, but we're going to be meeting just over the border," said member Nancy Frable.

The luncheon is not limited to club members. Frable explained, "We're not really a 'club.' Anyone can come to our meetings. A lot of lovely women choose to come join us."

The inspirational speaker will be Betty Larson, and Tabra Gomski will sing a couple of songs. Details of the luncheon's special feature are still being worked out.

"Many women come from all different churches," added Frable. "We don't talk about our churches, our age, our weight or our politics. I think that's why we all get along so well."

Free nursery services are provided for those needing them. "We're very non-profit," said Frable. "We pay our sitters, but we don't charge for the service."

A $10 inclusive fee is charged for the luncheon. Reservations should be made as soon as possible.

"We like to try and give the restaurant a week's notice," Frable said. "We're very excited to be having our first luncheon at the Colony House."

The club was started in the late 80s as the Antioch Christian Women's Club, but the name was changed to reflect an expanded membership. Stonecrost ministries sponsors the club.

To make reservations, call Frable at 356-2533.

Firefighters bowl to raise funds for burn camp

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Firefighters from Lake County Quadrant 2 made up of firefighters from Antioch, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Lake Villa and Round Lake participated in the fifth annual Bowl-A-Thon for Burn Camp raising nearly $6,000 for the cause. All proceeds go to the Illinois Fire Safety Alliance, a group that in turn sends young burn victims to the burn camp held at Camp Duncan.

"The first year we had 35 people and raised $800," said Chris Lienhardt, communications officer for the Antioch Fire Dept. "Now in the fifth year we had 84 couple bowling, and some others that just came for dinner for a total of about 200 people and earned $5,786."

According to Lienhardt, the Illinois Fire Safety Alliance uses donations made to the organization to help cover the costs of the camp. He said, "Every year we try to do more for the Fire Safety Alliance, and every year they try to have more campers."

Lienhardt credits firefighter Mike Gliniewicz from Grayslake with organizing the event. "The committee, if you will, is really Mike and his girlfriend Deanna Olenick, and Dave and Michelle Torkilsen," he added. "They really pull the whole thing together."

Antioch Bowling Lanes donated the lanes, rentals and the Tower Room banquet facility.

A separate raffle was held for prizes two round-trip tickets to Las Vegas provided by ATA Airlines. Fox Lake Ford donated both a remote starter and a detailing to be raffled off. KC's Cabin sponsored the $50 entry fee for two couples as well as making a monetary donation.

Monetary donations came from other sources as well including the 885 Civic Club. "Six-year-old Kelsie Kolle and her 10-year-old sister Karissa each took $5 out of their banks and had their mother make a donation," said Lienhardt. "Their mother was part of a group bowling from the Antioch Chamber (of Commerce and Industry), and she told her daughters what the money was being raised for and they wanted to help out."

Hi and low scoring bowlers were presented with gift certificates for their participation in the fundraiser.

"This event is just one more way we can help these kids," said Lienhardt. "We're happy to do it."

Planning and zoning meeting scheduled for Feb. 8 cancelled

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

The meeting of the combined planning commission and zoning board scheduled for Feb. 8 has been cancelled.

The village staff requested additional time to prepare for the public hearing regarding proposed zoning text changes to allow for car dealerships under B-3 (business) zoning as a special use. Currently, car dealerships fall under M-1 (industrial) zoning.

This issue has come under consideration as a result of Country Pontiac-Buick plans to relocate to the former Waterfall Restaurant, and the rezoning that occurred at the owners of the dealership's request.

While the proposed text changes are in line with the ordinances of neighboring municipalities, the village is using caution not to create special legislation.

The public hearing on this matter will be continued to March 8.

time stationed in Germany.

"I got a recipe for my 'cordon blue' in a suburb of Heidelberg," said Lovejoy. "I stuff the pork roast after trimming off all of the fat instead of just putting the ham and cheese on the top. It's so delicious that way."

Other menu items receiving high marks from Lovejoy, though attributed to the staff who stayed on with him when he bought the restaurant, include the Wunder-Bar schnitzel, a wienerschnitzel topped with red win sauce and mushrooms; the sauerbraten, sweet and sour marinated beef roast served with red cabbage and spaetzle; and, the homemade spactzle that accompanies at least half of the menu items.

Meals are served with a traditional relish tray that includes German potato salad and two other season salads plus soup or salad. A different soup of the day is featured in addition to a traditional hearty liver dumpling soup.

To enhance the variety of the menu, specials will be featured daily. Lovejoy said, "We try to have two German specials, and a third featuring fish in a variety of price ranges."

Lovejoy, who came out of retirement to buy the restaurant, was born and raised in the area. His German heritage led him to the restaurant and ultimately the fulfillment of a lifelong dream.

"I grew up as a tool and die maker. My family has always been in the tool and die business. My kids will probably go into the tool and die business," said Lovejoy. "Though my vocation was in tool and die, my heart has always been in the restaurant busi-

He explained that though he doesn't have a lot of formal training, he's done a lot of cooking and worked in restaurants throughout college and prior to joining his father in the tool and die business, and during his military service. "I lived with some Germans while I was in the service," said Lovejoy. "They had a restaurant and bar, and I helped them when I wasn't on duty as an MP. I learned a lot from doing that."

As with the Gaas, Lovejoy expects his family will be a big part of the restaurant with his girlfriend Tina and his children Meagan, Bennett and Alex coming in to add to the gemuetlichkeit (cozy, homey feeling) of the establishment.

While most of the previous ten owners physically added onto the building, Lovejoy has no current plans to physically expand the space. He acknowledged that shifting the parking lot may have to be done if Rte. 83 is widened, but is unconcerned as the restaurant sits on two acres of property extending to the south and back of the building.

"I would like to add a beer garden out back," said Lovejoy. "A good German restaurant really should have one." The restaurant stocks 25-30 different beers.

Currently, the restaurant is closed at lunchtime and on Tuesdays, though plans are in the works to open for lunch later this spring. The restaurant opens its doors at 4 p.m. Food is served until 9:30 p.m. on weeknights, and until 10 p.m. on weekends. The bar remains open beyond the food service hours.

"This is an eclectic place. We're a niche restaurant," said Lovejoy. "But we're the kind of place that if you stop in just once, you'll be back because we're a nice reasonably-priced place."

Suspended license

William N. Johnson, 21, of 40 S. Gretta in Waukegan was arrested for driving with a suspended license on Jan. 28 at 12:50 a.m. on Rte. 173 at Eagle Ridge.

Police observed a vehicle weaving within its lane of traffic, and then cross over the fog line momentarily with its tires. When stopped, Johnson provided a valid insurance card, but said the courts had retained his driver's license.

His identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC/SOS via dispatch and confirmed that his driver's license was suspended.

Johnson was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued two traffic citations. He was released on personal recognizance pending his Feb. 28 court date.

Daniel C. Johnson, 23, of 38768 North Ave. in Beach Park was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on Jan. 27 at 1:43 a.m.

An officer was dispatched to eastbound Rte. 173 and Deep Lake Rd. because of a report of a possible drunk driver. He was further told by dispatch that the complainant said the Chevy Blazer had crossed into the westbound lane of traffic, gone off the road and crashed in a densely wooded area on the north side of Rte. 173, and that the Antioch Rescue Squad was en route for possible injuries.

Police witnessed Johnson climb out of the passenger window, covered in blood and then stagger out of the ditch.

Johnson told police he was the only one in the vehicle and was on his way home from Wisconsin. When the Antioch Rescue Squad arrived, he signed a waiver refusing to go to the hospital.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he agreed to a breath test resulting in .168 blood alcohol concentration at 2:41 a.m. At this time, he complained of shoulder pain and was taken to St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan via the rescue squad.

Johnson was put through booking procedures when he was released from the hospital. He was issued citations for driving under the influence of alcohol, DUI over .08 blood alcohol concentration, failure to wear a seatbelt, improper lane usage, driving in the wrong lane and failure to reduce speed/accident.

Dan S. Sharp, 27, of 38270 Nippersink St. in Spring Grove was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on Jan. 27 at 1:19 a.m. at 955 Rte. 59.

While on patrol of westbound Rte. 173 at Tiffany Rd., police saw a vehicle approach at a high rate of speed and locked it at 54 mph in a posted 40-mph zone. As the vehicle came to Rte. 59, the driver proceeded into the through lane, and then suddenly veered left onto northbound Rte. 59.

When stopped, police detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on Sharp's breath. He failed to successfully complete field sobriety tests. He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he refused to properly complete a breathalyzer test.

He was put through booking procedures and issued citations for driving under the influence of alcohol, speeding and improper tum. He was released on proper bond pending his court date.

Drug paraphemalia

David E. Cote, 21, of 21808 W. North Ave. in Antioch was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol and possession of drug paraphernalia on Jan. 25 at 1:08 a.m. on North Ave. east of Deep Lake Rd. His passenger, Ryan A. Keel, 20, of 185 Lakewood Dr. in Antioch, was arrested for consumption of alcohol by a minor and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Police responded to a complaint of a car driving off the road, and that the car was still running.

The officer saw the vehicle facing south, and it appeared to be stuck in the snow. The passenger was trying to dig the car out of the snow. Cote was spinning the tires trying to get the vehicle unstuck.

When the officer asked if the two needed help, he detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on Cote's breath. A 12-ounce bottle of Miller Genuine Draft was spotted directly under the driver's side area when Cote exited the vehicle for field sobriety testing. He failed all tests. .

The officer told Cote he was under arrest, and saw him drop a clear plastic baggy on the ground from his right front pocket. The contents field-tested positive for cannabis.

The strong odor of alcohol was also detected on Keel's breath, and later a clear glass pipe was found in his pocket and three unopened bottles of beer were found in his outside coat pocket.

Warrant arrest

Patrick E. McBride, 21, of 155 Milwaukce Rd. in Lake Villa, was arrested on warrant on Jan. 26 at 4:49 p.m. at 587 Main St.

Police, having prior knowledge that McBride had an outstanding warrant, proceeded to his last known location to execute the warrant. He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept., and brought through booking procedures.

It was confirmed that there was a $10,000 bond warrant (10 percent applies) for illegal possession of alcohol by a minor. He was transported to the Lake County Jail and turned over to the Lake County Sheriff's Dept.

ong-time Lakeland Newspaper photographer Steve Young reached a milestone last week. Better yet, he's set to embark on a new one. Young missed his first Antioch varsity boys basketball game in 53 years.

But with good reason. While he may not have been shooting the ACHS at Zion hoops game, rest assured, Steve was still involved with Antioch athletics, only in another capac-

Since mid-December, Young has served as the assistant varsity girls gymnastics coach under Debbie Bessette.

"I've gotten the guys (basketball team) all these years," said Young, at the Lake County gymnastics invitational meet held at Lake Forest.

"But this is very rewarding (helping out the girls)."

Maybe Young has something here. Since starting as the assistant coach, the Sequoits' team scores have jumped from 112 to 135.

"He's doing a great job," said Bessette. "He hasn't missed a practice or a meet. His inspiration and helping the girls with corrections is invaluable."

However you slice it, Young might have missed his first varsity boys game, but he is there in spirit.

And for those who aren't familiar with Steve, just look for the guy passing out bubble gum at one of your local sporting events.

"I think I pass out between 100-200 pieces of gum on any given night." Golf enthusiasts, there's no need to wait for spring to start teeing it up!

Lake County Forest Preserves' Annual Chili Open golf tournament will be held at Brae Loch Golf Club Feb. 10. The nine-hole scramble, cosponsored by this paper, is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m.

Golfers are treated to nine holes of 'chilly' golf, followed by an all-you-can-eat 'chili' lunch. Prizes will be awarded for the Best Dressed Dapper and Daffy Duffers, those who wear the most stylish and funniest outfits. The tournament is for adults only with an entry fee of $30 per person, which includes lunch. Registration and pre-payment are required. The Chili Open is played on temporary greens and tees. If available, snow is packed on fiarways, tees and greens as part of the attraction and fun.

To reserve a foursome or for further information, call Brae Loch GC at 223-5542. Brae Loch is located on Rte. 45 just north of Rte. 120 in Grayslake. 🔍

Speaking of teeing it up, the weekend of Feb. 2-4, golf enthusiasts are invited to visit the annual Chicago Golf Show, held at the Donald E. Stephens Convention Center (formerly Rosemont) in Rosemont.

This year's show will feature more than 300 exibits, free golf instruction, putting greens, hitting nets where attendees can test out the latest clubs, and golf resorts from 17 · states.

Tickets are $8, $6 on Friday for seniors 60and-older, and free for children 14-and-under.

The show will run from 2-8 p.m. on Friday, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Sat., and 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Sunday.

Wauconda High School presents the Petite Cheerleading Clinic on Sat., Feb 10 from 8 a.m.-12 noon at the high school.

The cost for the event is $25 and includes four hours of instruction from Wauconda varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders and the coaching staff. The fee also includes a T-shirt, pair of mini-poms and (two) adult tickets to the boys basketball game Feb. 16.

Petite cheerleaders will perform at halftime of the JV basketball game. Petite varsity cheerleaders will perform at half-time of the varsity game.

And start the new year with a kick! Lindenhurst Youth Soccer League is holding a special registration for kindergarten teams for the upcoming 2001 spring season. Registration forms are available at the Lindenhurst Park District office, located at 2200 East Grass Lake Rd. in Lindenhurst between the hours of 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Mon.-Fri.

Forever Young | Sequoits pin down fourth at NSC tourney

By ROB BACKUS Staff Reporter

Prior to the season, Antioch was picked by many to finish near the bottom a North Suburban Conference that features strong team such as Libertyville, Warren, Stevenson and Grant. However, the Sequoits continued to turn heads with a strong fourth-place finish at the NSC Tournament held at Round Lake.

Antioch finished with 126 total team points, three better than fifth-place Stevenson, as 11 of their 14 wrestlers placed.

Sequoit Thor Swanson, wrestling at 152 pounds, was a champion for Antioch as his phenomenal season continued.

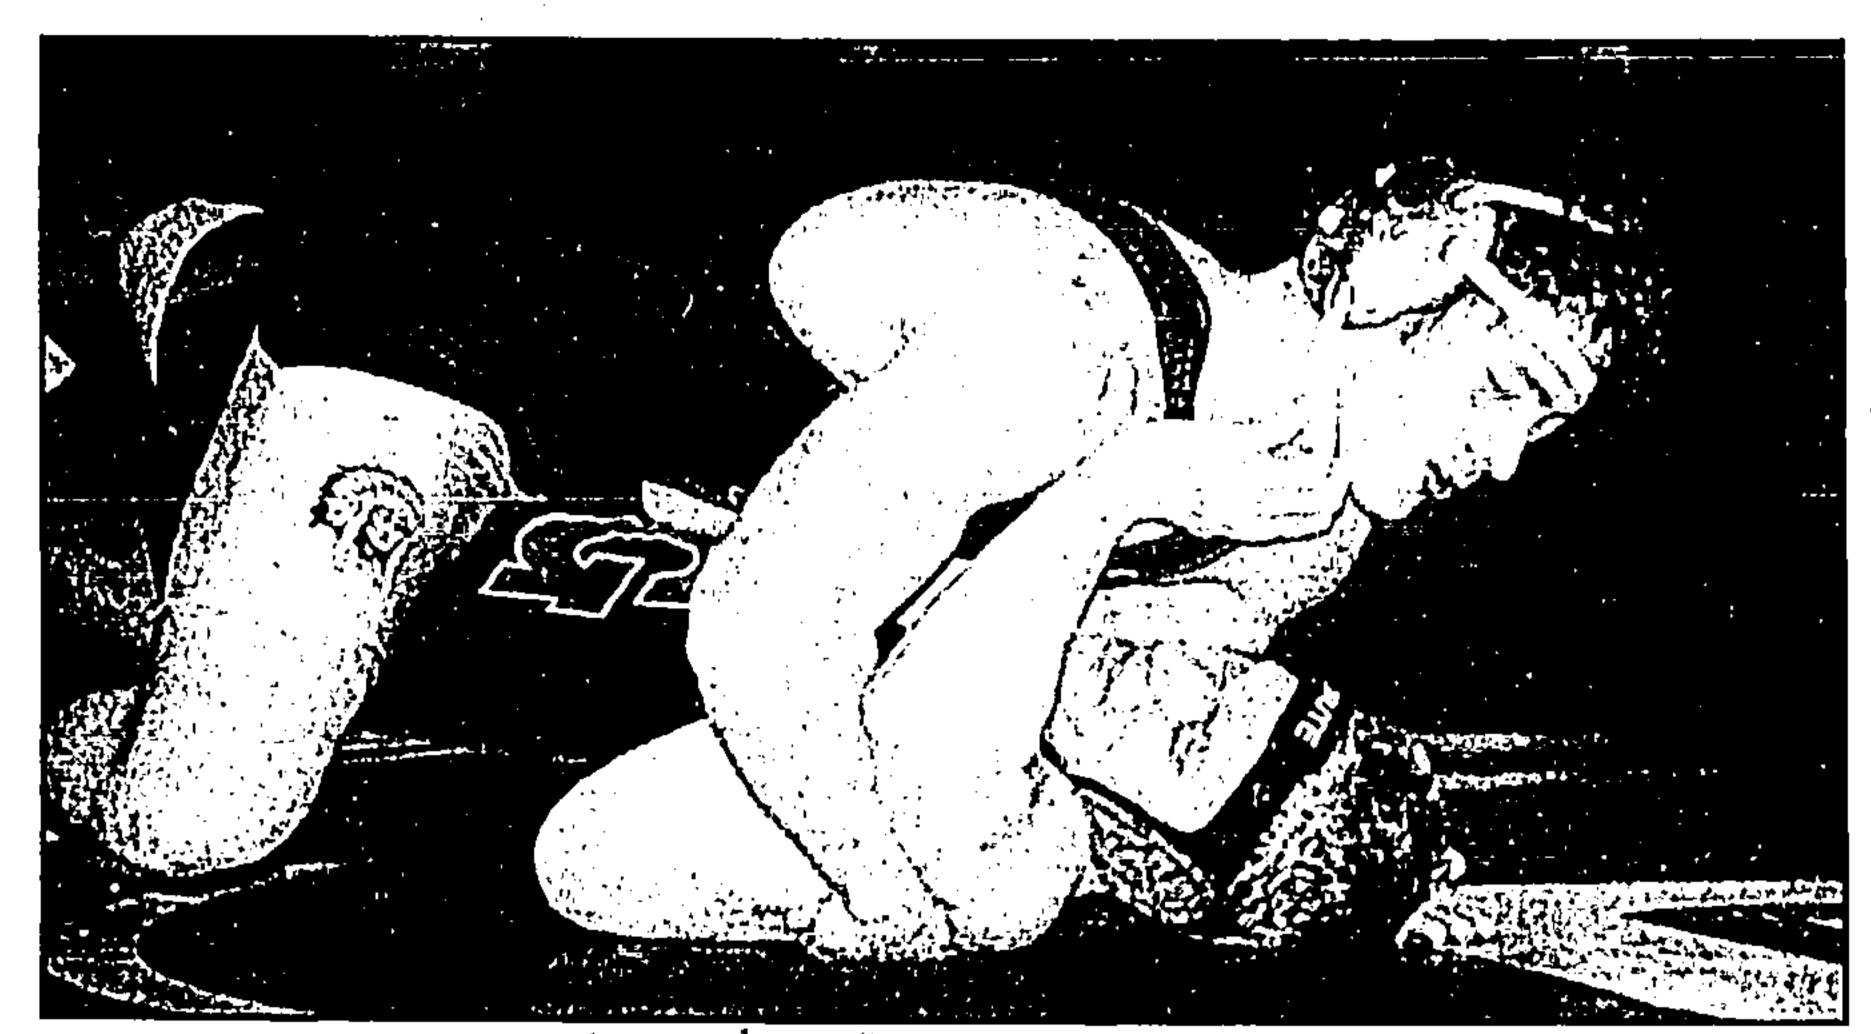

"Thor did a great job," said head coach Ted Sieckowski. "He's a dangerous wrestler and he has the right attitude."

The other 10 wrestlers for Antioch who placed were: Ryan Schuster (3rd place, 103 pounds), Tommy Hart (6th, 112), Dan Gibson (3rd, 119), James Keating (6th, 125), Sam Carden (7th, 135), Joe Perzigian (7th, 145), Ryan Smart (5th, 160), Tom Chilcote (4th, 171), Steve Oliver (2nd, 189) and Chris Vanderkooy (6th, 275).

"I'm extremely happy," said Sieckowski. "I thought we did remarkably well."

But the strong performance didn't come without its price.

Antioch, already short-handed after the loss of Bobby Grasser to a season-ending series of concussions, lost Vanderkooy to a strained shoulder and a torn biceps muscle.

Schuster and Hart are questionable for the regional tournament on February 2.

Despite being without four of his regular wrestlers, Sieckowski is still confident of his team's chances at the regional tournament.

"If the conference tournament is any indicator, then I think four or five wrestlers can advance," said Sieckowski. "But some kids exceed expectations and some break your heart."

Antioch will host the regional tournament on February 3 beginning at 10 a.m. The top three finishers in each weight classes will compete in the Conant Sectional on February 9 for a chance to go downstate.

Sequoit rollers turning it up a notch

With the post-season lurking, there's no better time to perform your best. The Antioch varsity girls bowling team is doing just that.

The Sequoits, which finished 11-2 in dual matches, are peaking at the right time as they enter the final week of the 2000-01 campaign.

A big win, and confidence-booster, came when Antioch downed Libertyville 2,536-2,474 at Antioch Lanes.

"We haven't beaten them in six years that I've been coaching," said head coach Steve Haenchen. "We bowled well in the second and third games and I think they (Libertyville) couldn't adjust to the lane conditions."

The Sequoits fell behind after one game 886-856 but then woke up, posting wins in the last two en route to the victory.

Senior Becky Gillengerten had a lot to do with it, rolling a high game of 239 and a threegame 540 series.

"She works very hard in practice," said Haenchen. "I think she's been doing well because about a year ago, she made up her mind that she wanted to dedicate herself to doing better. It shows."

The ever-steady senior Melissa Hansen also stepped up her game, posting a seasonhigh performance 676 series. Her games included 262, 193 and 221.

"When she relaxes and enjoys the moment, she bowls very well," noted Haenchen.

After the big win over the Cats, Antioch again fell behind to host Grant after the first game. Susan Carlson's 558 series, which included a high game of 222, and Hansen's 523 series (211 high game) propelled Antioch to a 2,392-2,365 victory.

Then, it all came together at the North Suburban Conference Meet last weekend at Hawthorn Lanes in Vernon Hills. Antioch rolled a high game of 930 in finishing third with a score of 4,902. The combination of dual meet and tournament points left the Sequoits 10 points behind second-place Warren in the final standings.

Jackie Feldman finished fifth (1095) and Carlson 10th (1,051).

"It was a pretty solid day for us," reflected

Haenchen. "We had one big game (930) but were too far in the hole to overcome (champion Libertyville) and runner-up Warren."

The Lady Sequoits will have a chance to improve on their scores with the sectionals coming up Feb. 2, again at Hawthorn Lanes. Action is slated to begin at 9 a.m.

"We'd like to step it up to about 300-400 pins," said Haenchen. "We'd like to shoot roll around 5,300. From there, we'll take our chances. But the way everyone has been bowling, anyone has a chance to qualify." JV finishes on high note

The junior varsity Sequoits also had a solid season. Its dual meet record of 12-1 included big wins over conference rivals Libertyville and Warren. After starting slow, the Lady Sequoits made up a lot of ground only to fall to champion Warren by five pins after trailing by 100 heading into the last game with a score of 4,567.

Leading the way included medal-winners Kelly O'Connel second (963), Katie Lyons fourth (945), and Ashley Stochmal eighth (924).-John Phelps contributed to this report.

The horns are growing for Sequoit gymnasts

By JOHN PHELPS Sports Editor

Antioch varsity gymnastics head coach Debbie Bessette has developed a ritual.

Before each of her girls performs a routine, Bessette holds both of her forefingers up to her ears as if to signify the horns are growing.

"I do that to remind them to go all out and $^\circ$ don't hold back," said the second-year coach. "It's kind of a fun thing as well. It makes us all laugh and relaxes everyone."

The horns were definitely growing for senior Jackie Cerney and freshman Amanda Wagener.

Both were so happy they could cry. Tears of joy, that is.

In what's already been a season of accomplishments for the Antioch varsity girls gymnastics team, the duo qualified for the Deerfield sectionals next Wed., Feb. 7 at 6:30 p.m. after finishing in the top-5 in the all-around in the Stevenson regional Jan. 30.

"This could be our last meet so we just wanted to go all out," said Cerney, a senior. A qualifier for sectionals in beam a year ago, Cerney will get a chance to compete in all four events after claiming fifth-place in the allaround (33.450). Her evening included sixth on the vault (9.000) and seventh in the bars (8.450). "I'm so excited - I get to do all four events again," she added.

Meanwhile, Wagener has emerged as one of the Sequoits premier all-arounders, finishing fourth in the allaround with a score of 34.650.

"It's very exciting. I just tried to stay with the basics. I'm really getting to like the atmosphere (competing in high school). In club, it's more intense. Tonight, I just relaxed and tried to do my best."

Wagener's night included sixth-place efforts on vault (9.00) and beam 8.600).

Junior Liz Miedona just missed qualifying, finishing sixth in the all-around (31.800). Freshman Sarah Lewis had a strong showing, claiming 10th-place in the all-around (30.700). It was a bittersweet ending for senior Audrey Goetzinger, who suffered a concussion and whiplash during a fall on the floor routine last year. 🔻

"I felt a lot more comfortable out there," she said after posting a 7.20 on the beam, her only event of the evening. "It's was a struggle mentally but I'm glad I stuck with it and finished out my career here in gymnastics. It's probably my last year competing in gymnastics."

Sophomores Sharon Grav and Ashley Myers also competed on the bars.

As far as the team was concerned, Antioch finished third with a score of 130.600. Lake Forest was just ahead in second-

(131.925). "We're gaining on them (Lake Forest)," said Bessette. "They have been a good measuring stick for us. But just to see the improvement in our girls. They are starting to get inspired when competing against better teams it makes them want to do better and improve on their skills." Proof has been in the numbers where that's concerned.

With a big dual meet win over Libertyville last week, it's first over the Cats in recent history, Antioch set a school-record for dual meet wins, finishing 6-4.

Waiver of school mandates sought

Antioch Community High School Dist. 117 voted to forward the waivers of two school code mandates to the state board of education. The first is to allow for five-hour days on April 25-26 when standardized testing takes place for juniors. The second is to make cheerleaders and dance team members exempt from having to take physical educa-

"Neither one of these waivers is very controversial," said Supt. Dennis Hockney. "The one would just make it unnecessary for the students to hang around when the testing period ce fishing is becoming a regular sport," said Jim Scott, a staff member of Bass Pro Shops Outdoor World in Gurnee and an avid ice fisherman. "Better clothing and equipment have made it easier and more comfortable for people to get out and go fishing on the ice."

Consistently freezing temperatures have made this season what is known as a steady ice year. Shelters and fishermen speckle the snow-covered ice on the dozens of lakes throughout Lake County.

The location of the best fishing is a matter of opinion. "The best ice fishing depends on the (weather) conditions, the time of the season and the type of fish that you want," said Scott. "Petite Lake can be hit or miss, but there are Walleye. Pistakee is good for Crappie, and Long Lake has a lot of Blue Gill."

Jim Tstinic, owner of Jim's Bait and Tackle in Fox Lake, said, "The little lakes are getting more play because the Chain itself hasn't been great. There hasn't been a 'run' or 'big bite' this year."

He added, "Just like with us, fish eat when they're hungry. But, there are more excuses for why fish bite or don't bite. We're all guilty of it."

According to Scott, the key to successful ice fishing is mobility.

"You have to be willing to move around," he said. "If one spot isn't working, move somewhere else."

He explained that being mobile on the ice is much easier than in the past. Lighter weight, quiet augers, fish locators and affordable underwater cameras provide easier access to the fish below the ice. "In the past, people used to build more permanent shelters. Now they assemble and fold up easily, and some like the 'Fishtrap' fold into a sled. It's not hard to move to a new spot."

The tactics used for ice fishing are different than those used in warm weather. "A vertical jigging lure is used to entice a fish to you. You want to be able to go into a school of fish to do this," Scott said, and added that this is the reason locators are helpful.

Bait and lures are often used in combination for the best results. Scented grub and shiners (similar to minnows but larger and with more sheen) are said to work well with a northland buckshot rattling spoon that sends out vibrations the fish feel. May fly larvae and dead smelt are winter-specific baits.

The rods are different for ice fishing. They are both shorter and more sensitive when fish bite. "The fish are more docile, and a little easier to bring in during the wintertime," said Scott. "They don't strike (at the bait) as hard, and you want to make sure you feel it."

"You generally use a shorter pole, because you want to be right on top of the hole," said Tstinic. "You need to be able to see what's happening in the hole. It's only 6 inches around —you can't be too far away."

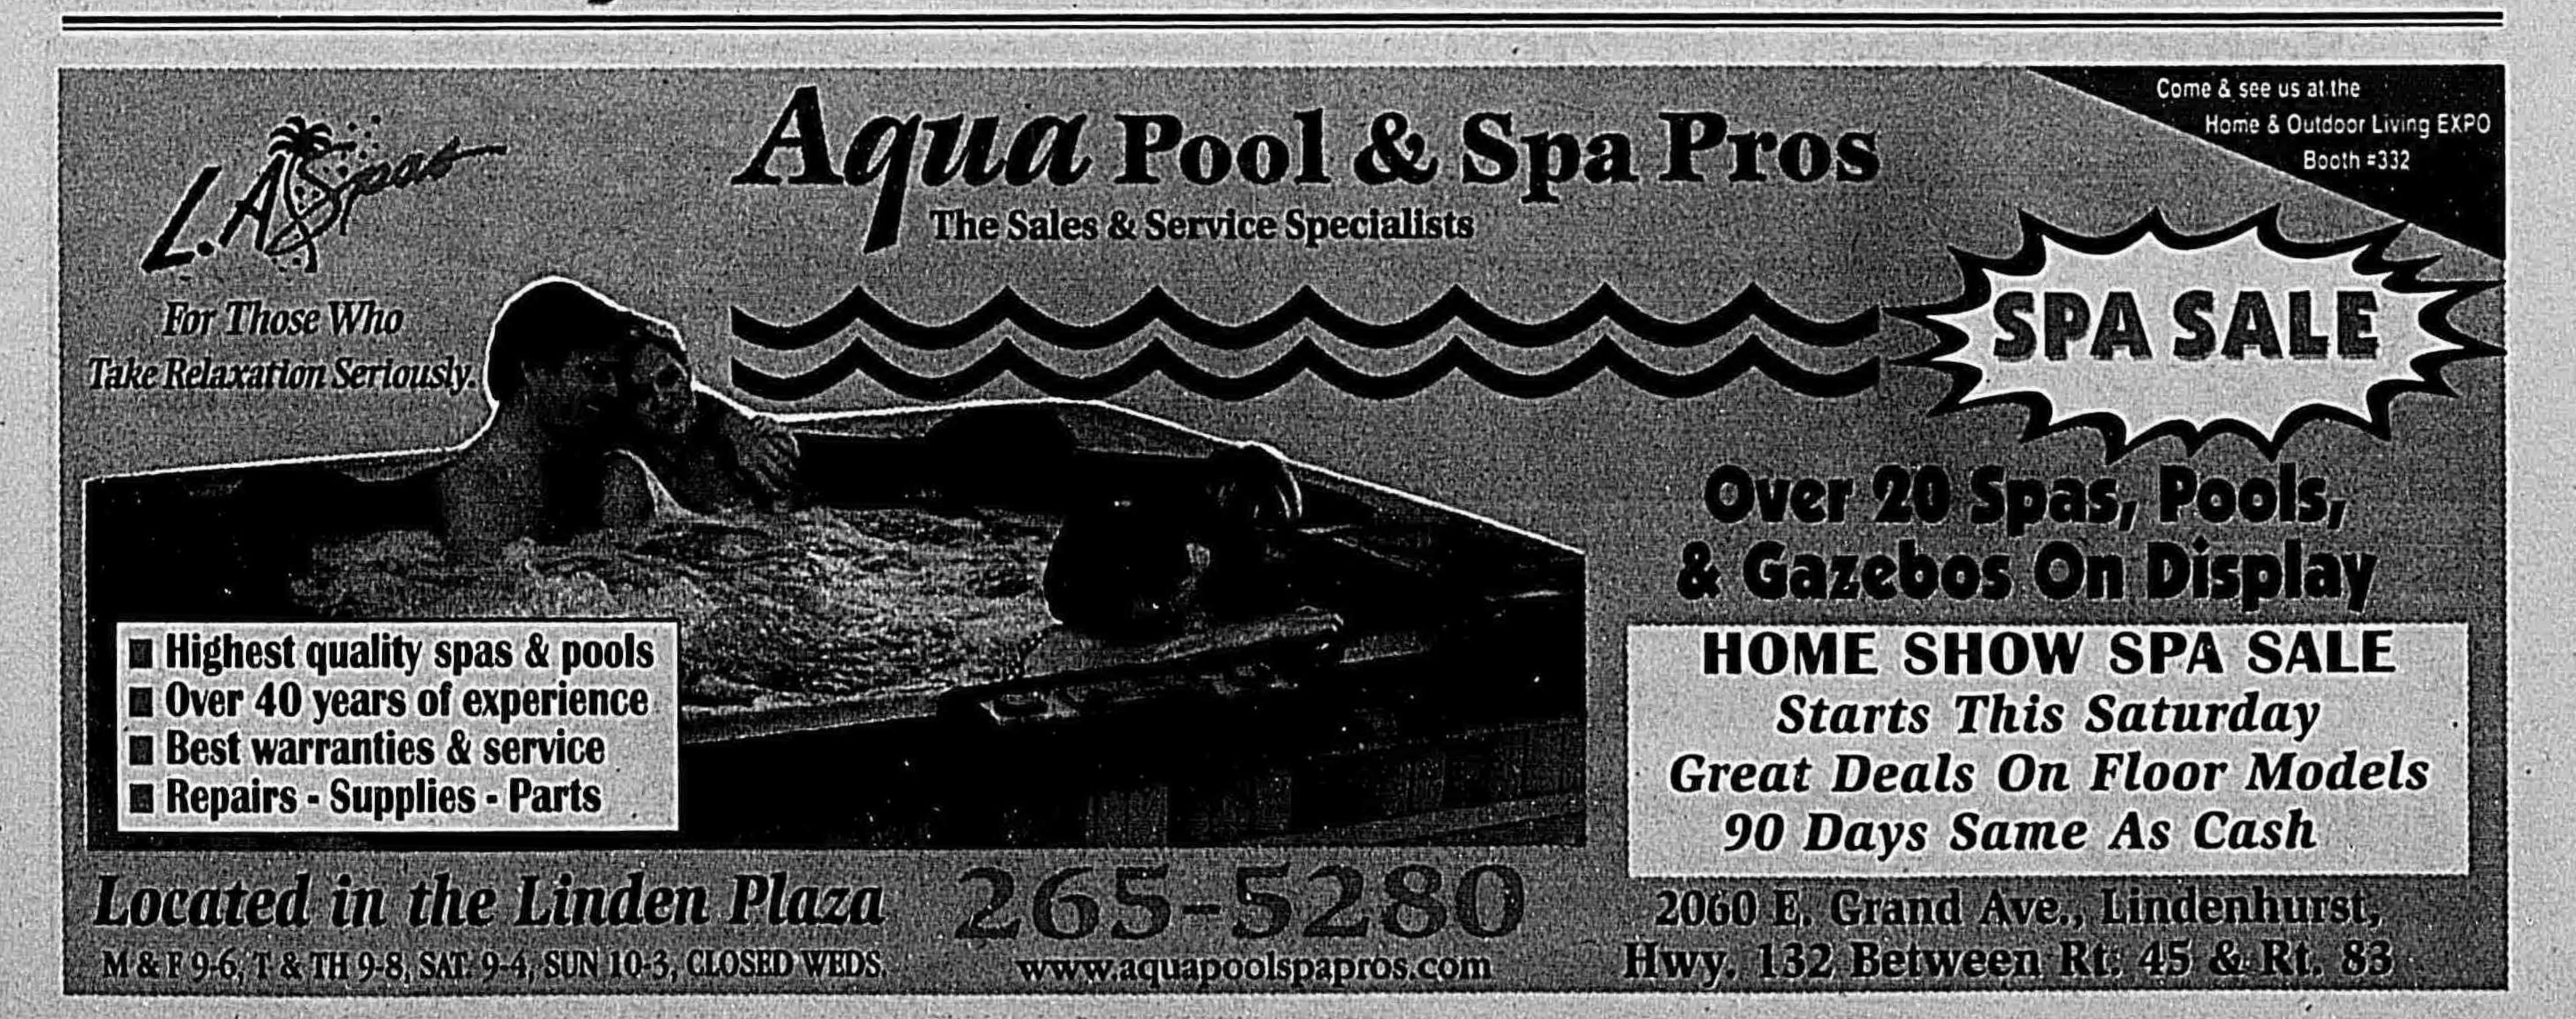

The biggest obstacle to overcome with ice fishing is the cold.

Scott said, "With other fishing, people buy their rods and reels first. With ice fishing, they buy their clothes and boots. Pack boots are excellent because they can keep your feet warm at -35 degrees."

He warned, "Stay dry! You can't stay warm if you get wet." Ones hands are particularly susceptible to frostbite. "If your hands start to get cold, you want to warm them up as quickly as possible," said Scott. "Warm them up slowly, though. Don't run them under hot water." Neoprene mittens are recommended to keep hands both dry and warm.

"It requires more stamina to stay out there longer," said

"Treasures of the Art Institute" also explores how Chicago's interest in modernism led to acquisition of one of the largest collections of impressionist paintings in the world. Discover how to read messages encoded in stone hieroglyphics and what the European and American collectors a century ago had in common with us today. And finally, what goes on behind the scenes and in what ways the collections are being en-

The documentary also showcases the impermanence of the permanent collections of the Art Institute, as artworks displayed that are continually changing. The goal of the program is to enhance the audience's appreciation of the Art Institute's collections and encourage people to come to the museum for a closer look.

Governor's quarter design contest calls for entries

Students in grades K-12 are invited to enter design ideas

overnor George Ryan recently announced that Illinois is beginning the first stage of the Commemorative Quarter Design selection process. The Commemorative Quarter Program is a 10-year initiative, beginning in 1999 and concluding in 2008, commemorating each of the 50 United States. The goal of the first stage is to provide the U.S. Mint with three to five design concepts. The U.S. Mint will use Illinois concepts to create candidate designs, which will be returned to Illinois for a final selection process.

"I would like to make our design selection process educational and fun for kids of all ages in Illinois," Governor Ryan said. "I am completely open to any good idea, and I encourage everyone to take part in this exciting program."

To encourage participation and collaboration among youth and educators in Illinois, Governor Ryan is sponsoring the Governor's Quarter Design Contest for grades K-12. Students can participate by mailing a brief paragraph describing the design idea, accompanied by a

A Quarter Design web site will help facilitate the program in Illinois. The internet site contains links to the U.S. Mint, educational resources, fun facts about Illinois and a quarter template for those who would like to print an outline of a quarter or submit an idea electronically. The Design Selection Process web site can be reached by selecting the quarter icon on the State of Illinois web page at www.state.il.us.

Subject matter for design concepts include state landmarks, landscapes, symbols of state resources, official flora and fauna, state icons and outlines of Illinois

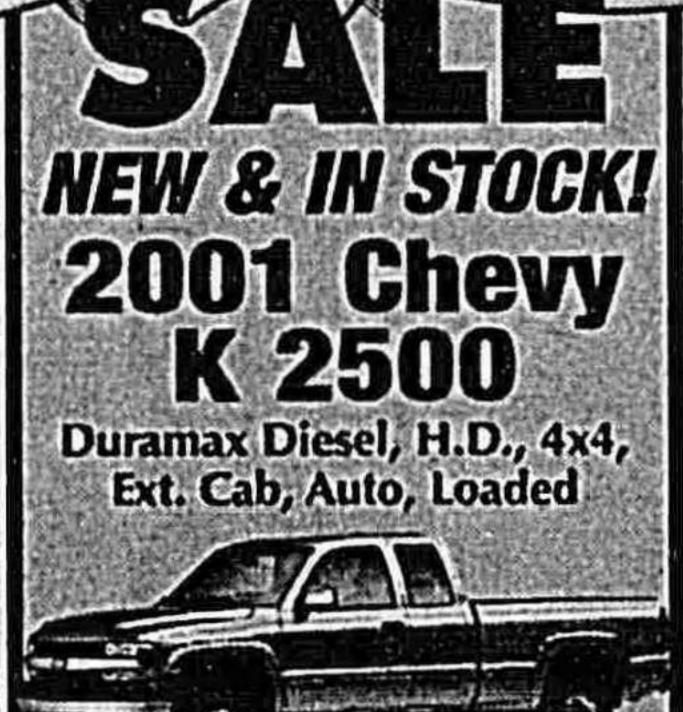

State quarters are issued in the order in which they ratified the Constitution and joined the Union. Illinois will be honored in 2003, along with Alabama, Maine, Missouri and Arkansas. state designs are displayed on the reverse of the quarter with the obverse side will continue to display George Washington. Individuals who are interested in submitting a design concept can submit materials via mail or e-mail. All ideas and student entries must be submitted before March 2. Mail ideas to: Governor's Office of Citizens assistance, Attn.: IL Commemorative Quarter Program, 222 South College, Room 106, Springfield, IL 62706. E-mail ideas to: ilquarter@gov.state.il.us.

Everything is Homemade at Cafe Aldente

For the last five years, those who prefer southern gourmet Italian cuisine at its finest have made Cafe Aldente, located at 404 N. Lake St. in Mundelein, a regular dining spot.

They love the casual elegance they find in candlelight dining on fine linens; but they keep coming back for more because of the homemade calamari, delicious pasta and original sauces created by the best Italian chef around, Todorio Palese, better known as Ted.

Ted's Italian cuisine is authentic because he brought these secrets with him from his birthplace in Naples.

The popular Aldente bread, the New Orleans fettucini, or the blackened salmon are guaranteed to please even the most discerning palate.

Extra added attractions include a mystifying magician on Wednesday, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. and the fun of karaoke singing on Thursday. Regular serving hours are Monday through Thursday from 10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., Friday from 10:30 a.m. to p.m., and Saturday and Sunday from 4 pm

Cafe Aldente is also well-known for its fine catering service too.

一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,我们一个人,我们一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,我们就是一个人,

What is green and flies to Ireland?

oes he hate me or something?"
muttered my husband when I-told him the news.

"What are you talking about?" I said.

"Why else would he get married in Ireland?"

"He" is my oldest son who, with his fiancée Kate, has scheduled their wedding for the month of October in, of all places, a charming little castle in the Irish countryside. I guess one's feelings about attending a wedding in another country depends on perspective.

I see it as a completely romantic choice, far from the mundane and steeped in foreign kistory and medieval magic. My husband, Mr. Bear, sees it as a chance to crash into the ocean and play "bob for apples" with sharks...and he's the apple.

"Oh, please, dear. You don't really think Will and Kate chose Ireland just because they know you hate flying, do you?"

"YES!"

"Come on!"

"Well...probably not Kate. But Will...you know how he likes to mess with me."

I'll admit that this particular son does have a sense of humor even wickeder than my own. Still, as a woman, I believe I know who does the major planning for a wedding...and it ain't him. While the two of them enjoy a modern partnership, based on mutual respect and compromise, he's still a guy. And, modern or not, I doubt that he is poring over magazines in search of the right clothes, the perfect flowers, etc. I imagine that he is, instead, making "joint" decisions about the wedding details this way:

KATE: What do you think of these flowers for the tables?

LIFE'S A BEAR

Donna Abear

WILL: Fine.

KATE: I'm thinking of having the bridesmalds wear burgundy.

WILL: Fine.

KATE: What color suit do you want to wear?

WILL: Fine.

KATE: Are you listening to me? WILL: Ummm...yes. What I meant was that you are doing a fine job.

KATE: Thanks. I appreciate that.

WILL: What else would you like me to help you decide?

KATE: How would you feel about getting married in Ireland?

WILL: Fine.

As for the real reason they chose Ireland to get married, I can't be certain since I wasn't there for the decision-making. But from what they've told me, it seems to be a combination of three things:

1. The romanticism of a European location 2. The traveling distance, which will keep the event smaller and more intimate, preventing the attendance of those who make their plans based on a free meal.

3. Kate has lived in Ireland; Will has vacationed there, and they both can claim a good deal of Irish in their bloodlines

Whatever the reason is, I am thrilled.

There's an Irish saying that goes, "The best test of a man is his choice of a wife." I am happy that my son has chosen so well. Not only is she a wonderful girl, but they have decided to get married overseas, assuring me of the extra bonus of a trip to Europe with my husband and children. A trip that, considering Mr. Bear's major distaste for flying, qualifies as an "overseas vacation offer he can't refuse."

If there is any drawback to the whole thing, it is that I will be feeling like a bit of an outcast. While both Kate's family and my ex-husband's family can claim Irish bloodlines, I'd have to suck down several bottles of Irish whiskey to make a similar claim about my own blood. Mixed breed that I am, this will be one of those times when, like on St. Patrick's Day, I will be wishing that I, too, could be referred to by some offensive ethnic slur.

As for my husband, though he is even less Irish than I am, he still has a better chance of fitting in. Why? Because after a nine-hour, seat-gripping, teeth-clenching flight over the Atlantic Ocean, not only will his blood be 100 proof Irish, he'll be wearin' a lovely shade o' green...on his face.

And somewhere in a castle in Ireland, my son will be wearing something, too.

A big, mischievous grin. (That's my boy!)

HOROSCOPE

Arles - March 21/April 20

Keep your temper in check when an acquaintance purposely tries to upset you early in the week, Aries. Don't let this person get to you. If you do, you're sure to say things that will get you into a lot of trouble. So, just stay calm. A close friend turns to you for romantic advice. Be honest with him or her. Gemini plays a key role.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Don't be stubborn when it comes to making plans with that special someone this week. Listen to his or her suggestions; they're not as bad as you think. Remember that the important thing is for you two to be together—no matter what you end up doing. A loved one needs a shoulder to cry on. Be there for him or her.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

A fast-talking acquaintance gets you involved in a difficult situation on Wednesday. You have to react quickly if you want to get out of this without any problems. Just stay calm, and you're sure to rectify everything easily. A close friend needs your help with a personal problem. Do what you can.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Don't let your sadness show when a loved one shares some important information with you. Just keep your feelings to yourself. This person doesn't mean to hurt you; he or she just wants your advice. Try to stay objective. That special someone has a surprise for you on Tuesday. Enjoy!

Leo - July 23/August 23

You meet someone interesting when out with buslness associates this week, Leo. Get to know this person better, because he or she can offer you a lucrative opportunity. Don't let this slip away. A close friend gives you some romantic advice. Take it, because it's sure to help.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

Be honest when an acquaintance asks your opinion about a personal matter. Don't try to spare this person's feelings; he or she deserves to know the truth. Your forthrightness will be appreciated. The person whom you've been seeing wants to intensify your relationship. Say yes, because this is exactly what you want too.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

Don't take a close friend's ribbing to heart. This person doesn't mean anything by it; he or she is just making a joke. Try to understand that. A loved one turns to you in a time of need. While you're reluctant to help, you must do all that you can for him or her.

Scorplo - Oct 24/Nov 22

Don't let your pride get in the way of asking for help this week. There is a lot to do, and you can't accomplish everything on your own. You need some assistance. Ask for it. That special someone needs a shoulder to cry on late in the week. Be there for him or her. Aquarius plays a key role.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

Don't back down from a challenge on Thursday, Sagittarius. You know that you are right. If you just stay calm and present the facts, you're sure to win this disagreement. Those around you will be impressed with your composure. An acquaintance asks to borrow money. Say yes, because this person is very reliable.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Don't be shy when you run into an old flame early in the week, Capricorn. Fate brings the two of you together again; take advantage of this opportunity. A loved one asks for your help with a family matter. Do what you can for him or her. Your efforts will be appreciated.

Aquarius – Jan 21/Feb 18

Be realistic when planning your week, Aquarius. There is a lot to accomplish, but you can't do it all by yourself. So, don't try. You have to prioritize things if you want to make any progress at all. Turn to a loved one for encouragement and help if you need it. Leo plays a key role.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

Keep your sense of humor about you this week, Pisces, because you're going to need it. Things are going to be quite hectic for a while. Laughing at the obstacles you encounter will make everything much easier to deal with. Don't forget that!

FROM LAKELIFE 1 FISHING—

Tstinic of the cold. "But, some of the hard cores will only ice fish, because it's too busy in the summer."

According to Scott, the essential equipment for ice fishing includes warm clothing, an ice auger, a good rod and reel combination, a bait bucket and a sled for mobility.

"People used to use an ice spud to pound a hole into the ice," said Scott. "That would scatter the fish which is not what you want. Today augers are about half the weight of what they were five or ten years ago. There are fantastic hand and power augers. I have a power auger that can go through 4 feet of ice in less than a minute, and it's very quiet."

For newcomers to the sport Tstinic recommends getting tips from others on the ice. "Look where most of the people are fishing," he said. "They don't always know what they are doing either, but very often they will give you some tips."

The best tip is to make sure the ice safe before venturing onto it. "You want hard ice," said Tstinic. "Black ice is getting thin. You also want to make sure the ice is not honeycombed with cracks."

Local resorts and bait shops are good sources of information, as is the Illinois Department of Natural Resources (IDNR) Division of Fisheries. Lynn Mick, a fisheries outreach project manager, said, "No one wants to really commit to saying that ice (on any given body of water) is safe, because things can happen. There is a northeast Illinois fishing hotline that is updated weekly that offers information."

Calling the hotline (312-814-2070) puts one into an automated system that gives a run down of lakes in the area, their ice conditions, the types of fish that are biting and the type of bait offering the best results.

As with all sports, there are rules that must be followed. The Division of Fisheries publishes a fishing rulebook yearly. The "2001 Illinois Fishing Information" can be found anywhere fishing licenses are sold.

Mick said, "The ice fishing rules are found on page 5, and include the following: a sport fishing license is required; a maximum of three poles or tip-ups (shortened rods) may be used with no more than two hooks; holes cut in the ice must be 12 inches or less; shelters must be of portable construction of metal or wood and covered with canvas, plastic, or other similar material; shelters must be marked with the name and address of the owner; after March 1, shelters must be removed after use; and, poles must be constantly attended."

To help introduce children and adults to fishing, in general, the IDNR started a program in 1995 called the "Access to Fishing Program" that lends fishing equipment (free of charge) to children and adults. Basic gear and literature may be checked out from designated lending institutions such as park districts or libraries. In Lake County, equipment can be borrowed from the Round Lake Park Dist. Nature Center, the Grayslake Park Dist. and the Wauconda Park Dist.

Steve Nagle from the Wauconda Park Dist. said, "We've never had a request to borrow equipment in the winter, but it's available. To borrow equipment for the day, simply come by during office hours. Something of value, like a driver's license has to be left with us."

Also as with other sports, competition is involved. The Northern Illinois Conservation Club (NICC) is sponsoring its 41st Chain O'Lakes Ice Fishing Derby on Feb. 10-11 with the headquarters being McDermit's Resort on Channel Lake and the two satellites being Pink Harrison's Resort on Pistakee Lake and K&S Kempf's on Petite Lake.

"This all subject to Mother Nature, of course," said NICC president John Stecher. "I have no control over the weather."

The event raises money for NICC, a group whose motto is "working for conservation." Additionally, two $500 scholarships will be awarded to one student from the College of Lake County and a second to a student from McHenry Community College Student.

More information about the derby is available by calling NICC at 395-6422, or logging onto its web page at www.lake-online.com/nicc.

"You have to have a real love for fishing," said Tstinic. "Ice Fishing is loved by many who will keep on doing it until they can't do it anymore."

'Thirteen Days' paints a chilling picture

he defining moment in America's cold war with the Soviet Union was the Cuban Missile Crisis, which took place in the fall of 1962.
Director Roger Donaldson's "Thirteen Days" explores the ramifications and impact of the paralyzingly frightening Cuban Missile Crisis.

Donaldson showed every political sequence in the Missile Crisis, from the discovery of the missiles to the culmination of the negotiations with the Soviets. The pseudo-Phillipines location shot of Cuba was brilliant, and jungle terrain transported viewers back to 1962.

The opening shot of the film shows the obliterating effect of a nuclear bomb as if such a calamity had occurred. Bruce Greenwood as President Kennedy, Steven Culp as JFK's brother Robert Kennedy and the leading character Kevin Costner, who played Kennedy presidential aide, Ken O'Donnell, discover that the Russians are surreptitiously deploying surface-to-surface, medium-to-intermediate missiles in Cuba. The missiles had the potential to wipe out every American city with the exception of Seattle.

As the drama unfolds, scenarios

are presented suggesting that the over zealousness of the chiefs of staff advocate a full-scale invasion of Cuba, as well as ousting Castro and dismantling the missiles.

Throughout the movie, it appears as though the chiefs of staff were advocating that the U.S. enter into a nuclear war with the Soviet Union. In the end, Russian ships heading towards Cuba are turned away as Kennedy averts a confrontation with the Soviet Union through diplomacy.

Thirteen Days' Rating PG-13 Director Roger Donaldson Starring Bruce Greenwood Steven Culp Kevin Costner

Dylan Baker

Henry Strozier

Kevin Costner's repetition of Ken O'Donnell's uncustomary nauseous Boston accent was the only negative in "Thirteen Days." O'Donnell's intelligence's uncovered the internal politics of the Soviet Union. O'Donnell suspects that Nikita Krhuschev orchestrated the Deployment of missiles, or the Soviet government set the confrontation in order to make Krhuschev look bad. Costner's ballyhooed publicity accentuated interest in "Thirteen Days," which was released in New York and Los Angeles last month in order to make it an Oscar contender.

This movie receives four popcom boxes.

this simpler life an enjoyable adventure.

Jeff Juday, whose probably tired of being compared to a young Michael J. Fox, as Huck, and Derek J. Alexander as Jim the runaway slave, lead the audience down the Mighty Miss, both more than up to the big sound of Roger Miller's "Muddy Waters," the melodic "River in the Rain," and the prophetic "Worlds Apart."

The delightful Susan Mc-

Monagle does her share of scene stealing as Mary Jane, only to be outdone in that department by Ian Brennan's wild and crazy version of a true American hero, Tom Sawyer.

Danny Heeter, as the Young Fool, comes up with another musical show stopper with his outstanding delivery of "Arkansas."

Craig Spidle's dramatic emoting as Pap Finn is a standout, among more than a sufficiency of outstanding acting, and Felicia Fields' resonate voice is notable even in this sea of big voices.

The entire family will enjoy this musical trip back to our country's roots and everyone will leave the theater humming-Miller's memorable country music that is as American as, well, Huckleberry Finn.—By Gloria Davis

International folk singer entertains local crowd

Unique style and sound blends humor with folk and traditional music

By USA ROWE Staff Reporter

Members and non-members of the Lake County Folk Club gathered at Park City's Greenleaf Grill, to hear the diverse sounds of folk singer Bob Franke.

The show opened with two club members, Pete "One Man Band" Jonsson on guitar and harmonica and Marlowe "Chester" Scholten on bass. These two warmed up the crowd with some southern flavor and upbeat melodies.

Bob. Franke stepped up to do his own set and immediately had the audience's attention with a humorous story about a trip to Canada, which led into his first song.

Franke continued to delight his audience with such humorous songs as the Acid Polka, which was one of his highlights for the night. Using his own unique style and sound, Franke made his premier appearance for the folk club a memorable one.

The audience was more then willing to comply with Franke's request to sing along on the choruses. He sang lyrics mostly dealing with life experiences and humorous events while he played catchy guitar melodies.

Franke came to be a folk singer while attending the University of Michigan. There, he re-discovered folk and traditional music in the local coffee houses around campus.

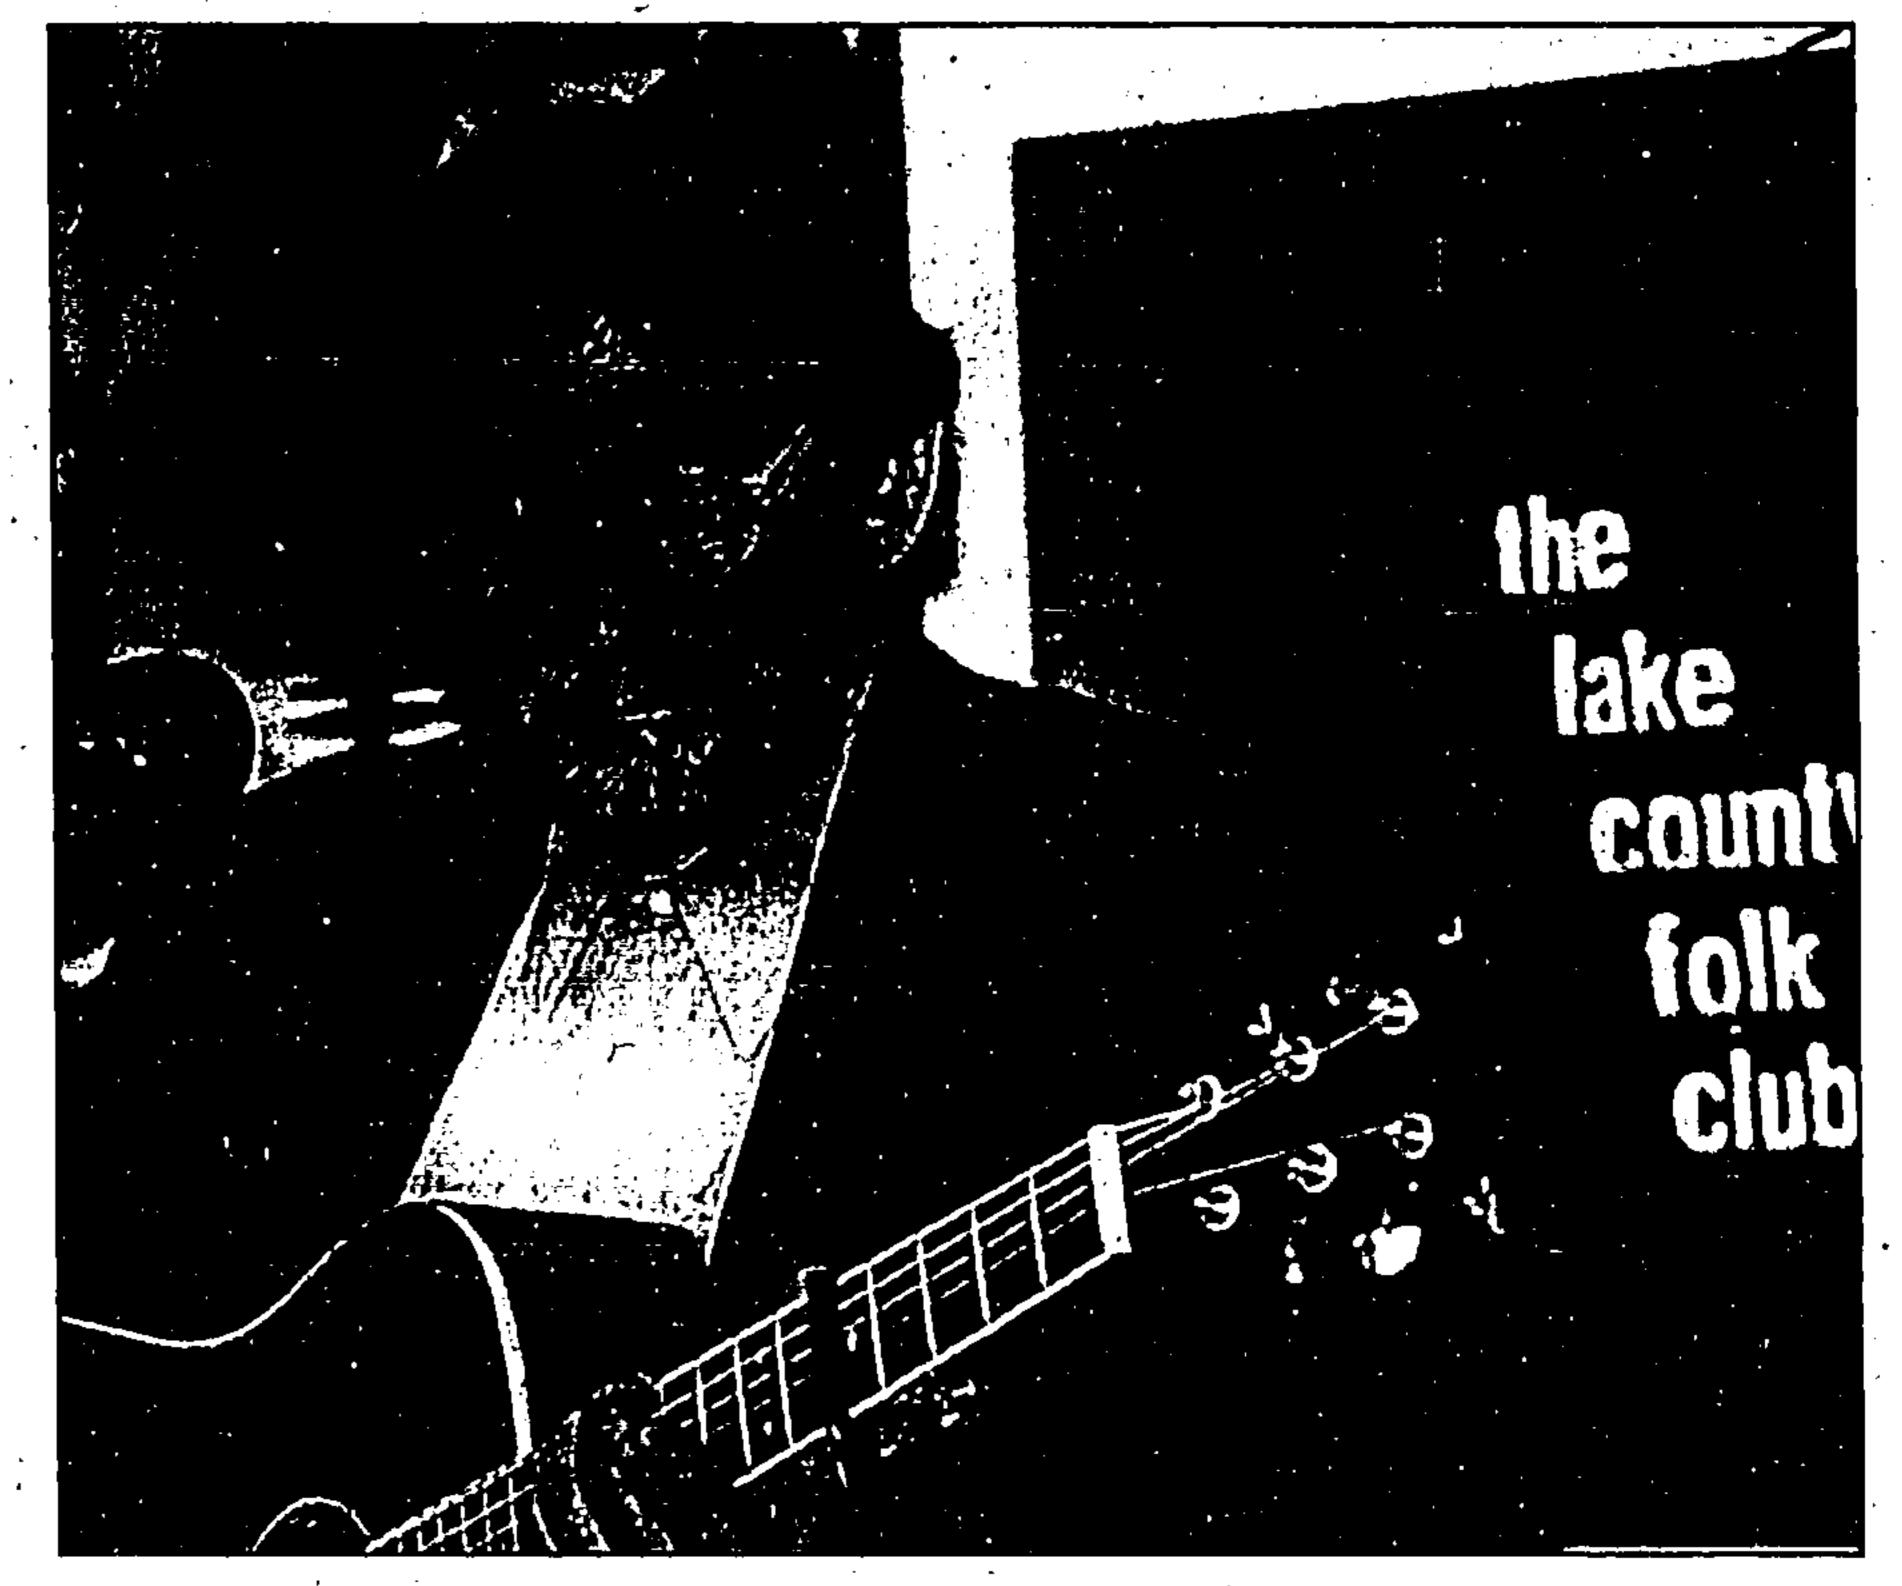

His fascination with music began when he was 14 when he bought his first guitar and taught himself how to play. By the age of 15, he also added a banjo to his collection.

Around 1975, Franke started touring the United States. Throughout his travels, Franke has also made stops in Europe as well as Canada. He hopes that he will be able to play in Scotland, New Zealand and Australia, since some of his music has already touched these countries.

 He believes that a folk singer is "a person who sings songs that were written for some other purpose than making money."

Even though he averages 100 shows a year, he makes a portion of his living expenses by selling CDs of his music at his shows as well as online. The CDs are listed on Borders.com as well as Amazon.com.

The Lake County Folk Club will be having more concerts at the Greenleaf Grill as well as open stages for performers who would like to share their music also. For more information and times, contact Alex McDougall at 949-5355.

Register now for Chili Open Golf Tournament

It's not often you see golfers on a course in northern Illinois in the middle of winter. But then again, those who have been bitten by the golf bug will play under just about any condions, including playing on a snow-covered course.

Lake County Forest Preserves' Brae Loch Golf Club in Grayslake is hosting the Chili Open Golf Tournament on Saturday, Feb. 10, with play beginning in shotgun format at 10:00 a.m.

The tournament, which is sponsored by Lakeland Media, features nine holes of winter golf plus an all-you-can-eat chili lunch at the conclusion of play. Special prizes will be awarded for the best-dressed in both stylish and funniest categories.

Play is on temporary tees and greens. Available snow is packed onto tees, fairways and greens as part of the attraction and fun.

Pre-registration of $30 person is required. Call Brae Loch Golf Club at 223-5542 for more information or to reserve a foursome. The club is located on Rt. 45 just north of Rt. 120 in Grayslake.

Hours are 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on Saturday and 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Sunday, Admission is $3 for adults, children are free.

Fifth generation joins family firm

Ringa III

Robert J. "RJ". Ringa III has joined Ringa Funeral Home in Lake Villa and is the fifth generation of his family to become part of the family owned and operated firm.

Ringa will serve his required apprenticeship at the firm his great-great-grandfather established in 1895.

A recent graduate of Worsham College of Mortuary Science, he also holds a B.A. degree in teaching from the the University of Dayon in Dayton, Ohio. After receiving his teaching degree, he spent a year as a secondary education teacher on the island of Saipan, located in the Mariana Islands group in the northern Pacific.

"Obviously, we are extremely delighted and proud to have RJ continue the family tradition," said Bob Ringa, Jr. company president.

In addition to his involvement with the funeral home, RJ Ringa is currently employed as a teacher at Warren High School in Gurnee.

Porter joins well-known Washington, D.C. law firm

Hogan & Hartson L.L.P., a Washington, D.C.-based international law firm, announced today that former House Appropriations Subcommittee Chairman John Edward Porter has joined the firm's Washington office as s partner, Porter, who served eleven terms as Congressman from Illinois' 10th Congressional district, retired from Congress at the end of the last session.

Porter will focus on health, legislative and education issues at Hogan & Hartson. He joins three former U.S. Representatives who are members of Hogan & Hartson's Legislative Group: Paul Rogers, a partner in the firm, who served for 24 years as a Member of Congress from the 11th District of Florida, including eight years as the Chairman of the House Subcommittee on Health and the Environment; Robert Michel, Senior Advisor for Corporate and Governmental Affairs, who served for 38 years as the U.S. Representative from the 18th Congressional District of Illinois, including 14 years as House Minority Leader; and David Skaggs, Of Counsel to the firm, who served for twelve years as the U.S. Representative from the 2nd Congressional District of Colorado and was a founding cochairman of the House Bi-Partisan Retreat.

"John Porter has earned the respect of health sector players and observers across the political spectrum for his handling of HHS appropriations in recent years," said Ann Morgan Vickery, Practice Director of Hogan & Hartson's Health Group. "We are thrilled to have him as a colleague. Our clients will benefit tremendously from the application of his knowledge and judgment to some of their most challenging health legislative issues."

"I am very pleased to be joining a firm with such an outstanding reputation," said Congressman Porter. "The firm's preeminent practices in health care and education will provide the opportunity for me to continue to focus on issues with which I was very involved during my 21 years in Congress and to assist clients with a wide range of other matters in these important areas. I am also looking forward to working with my former colleagues from the Hill."

Congressman Porter was founder and cochairman of the Congressional Human. Rights Caucus, a voluntary association of Members of Congress working to identify, monitor and end human rights violations worldwide. Congressman Porter passed legislation to stop the destruction of tropical rainforests and legislation to end federal subsidies for logging roads into national forests. In 1992, he was appointed to the U.S. Congressional Delegation to the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development (UNCED), better known as "The Earth Summit." For four years, he served as served as Chairman of the Global Legislators Organization for a Balanced Environment (GLOBEUSA), part of a world-wide network of legislators (GLOBE Europe, GLOBE Japan, and GLOBE Russia) working to coordinate efforts to protect the environment. He sponsored legislation that created Radio Free Asia.

Hogan & Hartson L.L.P. is the largest law firm based in Washington, D.C. Today, the firm has more than 800 attorneys serving clients in a practice that cuts across virtually all legal disciplines.

Jobsite injury lawsuit settled

A lawsuit filed against State Bank of the Lakes and several sub contractors has been settled in Lake County circuit court for $605,000 according to Libertyville personal injury attorney Douglas Rallo. Rallo represented Jesus Rodriguez, a construction worker at the bank's Spring Grove facility.

On Sept. 4, 1998, "Jesus was at the site to prepare it for a concrete pour that morning and saw two 4 by 8 sheets of plywood laying on top of one another," said Rallo. "The plywood sheets were not nailed down or marked to indicate that they covered a hole in the floor," he said. Jesus picked the sheets up one by one. "Without any warning on the plywood itself, and since Jesus couldn't see far in front of him when he picked up the wood, he was unable to avoid falling into the hole," said Rallo. Rodriguez was transported from the scene to Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge where he was treated for a fractured pelvis and several broken ribs sustained in the accident.

According to Rallo, "the lawsuit alleged that certain subcontractors laid the plywood on the concrete floor without nailing them down and marking them with the word "hole," both of which were required by OSHA. Also, as owner and general contractor in control of the work, the bank had a legal duty to supervise and make sure the property was safe for the workers."

In addition to the $605,000 settlement, Rallo filed a workers' compensation claim for his client, and obtained $133,188 in benefits from his employers' insurance company.

Door unlocked for joint planning mall though it may be, a significant first step has been taken toward unifying county-wide planning that is intended to put planners on the same page.

With the aim of spending the next 24 months formulating the Framework Plan, the guide for providing how a Lake County population of 800,000 will live in harmony in 2020, a determined effort is being made to get village and county planners working together, something that has never been done before.

The Framework Plan is designed to function in conjunction with the United Development Ordinance (UDO), a document put in place last year that deals with open space questions, development, affordable housing, transportation and employment questions. The UDO puts teeth in the planning process.

Under the auspices of the Lake County Regional Planning Commission, leaders of all stripes came together at a meeting at College of Lake County to set the stage for the two-year job. Most significantly, village officials have been invited to participate in planning at an early and basic level. Christine Wilson, executive director of the Lake County Municipal League, captured the spirit of the endeavor. Wilson said, "we'll get a chance to talk about things before they're enacted." Precisely. Too often in the past, county planning efforts have been presented to cities and villages in a "spoon fed" manner, or worse, force feeding. No more.

Components of the Framework Plan will be hammered out at a series of regional meetings attended by municipal and township officials. The first session scheduled for Feb. 14 will bring together representatives of Wauconda, Lakemoor, Volo, Island Lake, Fox River Valley Gardens, Fremont Township and Wauconda Township.

As we said, a small step. But a significant step. We hope mayors and local council members see the wisdom of working together to draw plans for the future.

'Cookie cutter' look can be displaced

Tillage officials have it within their power to get away from that vexatious "cookie cutter" look, the bane of track development and a scourge of modern suburbia.

Building codes can be enacted to prevent look-alike homes from being constructed next to each other. Mundelein is among municipalities taking steps to battle subdivision "sameness."

Trustees have an ordinance where a new house cannot have the same design as a home within three lots on the same side of the street or look similar to the house directly across the street.

Builders also have it within their power to use diff

Builders also have it within their power to use different materials, change elevations, alter window designs and vary colors. Some builders do—to their credit and the improvement of community appearances. Some don't—to their discredit.

The Mundelein ordinance regulates subdivisions of four or more houses.

There's an election coming up April 2. Asking the candidates where they stand on "cookie cutter" sameness will add spice to the campaign debate.

Going high tech to insure service very disgruntled taxpayer with a service complaint who has ever run into bureaucratic sloth probably has intoned the age-old complaint, "You can't beat city hall." In many instances that still applies to county, state and federal government.

At the grassroots level, though, more and more municipalities are taking steps, often going to great lengths, to insure that taxpayers are getting all the services for which they are paying. Computerization is making it possible for government to do a better job.

The Village of Grayslake, for example, operates a "request for service" program where every citizen request is entered into a data base. Each request can be traced to a conclusion. Mayor Pat Carey says there are absolutely no pigeon holes. Last year 1,300 non-emergency requests for service were logged. Computer tracking showed that 90 percent of the requests were handled successfully.

For officialdom, the beauty of computerization is that a fool-proof tracking system provides a ready yardstick for measuring employee efficiency. If villages can deliver service, why can't other governmental agencies do the same? Now there's a question that needs an answer.

VIEWPOINT

Electronic voting passes challenge

"voted" with the new optical scanning system. Reaction? Neat. Cool. Right on. Awesome!

Electronic voting is easier than operating an ATM machine. Certainly no more complicated than inserting a dollar bill into a soft drink machine. Palm Beach County, are you listening?

Your optically scanned ballot will be counted. No doubt about that. And if you goof up, or change your mind, the system allows you to start all over. No problem. An election judge will be close by to answer questions or offer assistance—-to a point.

My first time using an optical scanning voting system was in the Lake County Clerk's office in a demonstration setting. Actually, the new system already is in use for absentee voters in an election being conducted Feb. 27 in Waukegan and North Chicago, where primary candidates will be selected for the April 3 consolidated election, and in Libertyville and Warren Township (Gurnee) where voters will pass judgement on school tax increase referenda.

Standing by to offer assistance, just like election judges, were County Clerk Willard Helander and Richard Carrison, technical director. A 25-year veteran in the clerk's office, Carrison was instrumental in the selection process to replace outmoded punch card voting with optical scanning.

Carrison handed over a mock ballot and a felt tip marking pen. In an actual voting situation, I would have gone into a booth to mark the ballot, a card roughly the size of a legal size letter, in privacy.

I inserted the marked ballot into the scanning machine. That was it. Presto. My vote was being tabulated as Carrison remarked, "You can put the ballot in up or down. Makes no difference." OK, you technically challenged Floridians, side-ways won't work. But then the election judge would be standing nearby to straighten out the error.

There is a plainly visible display "reader" on top of the voting machine that indicates to the voter that the ballot has or has not been correctly marked. An "over vote" is indicated plainly. At that point, the voter has the option to start over or let the ballot "stand." As we now know (after the Florida fiasco), some people deliberately vote for two candidates for the same office. An over-vote doesn't necessarily spoil the ballot. No difference with optical scanning.

As you prepare to walk away, your ballot falls into a sealed hopper. At the close of the polls, a button is pressed to produce a print out tabulating all the ballots and the information is forwarded to the courthouse by telephone modem.

"We expect to have results no later than 40 minutes after the polls close—-all 403 precincts," Carrison declared. Ballot cards and voting equipment are returned to the clerk's office for secured storage.

The Feb. 27 election will provide a great opportunity for officials and election judges to get acquainted with the new system, Helander pointed out. Lake County is being organized into 196 polling centers, each equipped with a scanner. Carrison said the system is designed to handle up to four precincts per machine.

Just to be safe and provide for growth, 225 scanning machines and 250 tabulating units have been purchased.

"After Super Bowl Sunday, I'll be working full-time to get election judges trained," Carrison stated. The tech chief said election officials from every precinct will be invited to observe voting Feb. 27 to make sure the county-wide balloting April 3 goes off smoothly.

A lot of people are working hard to make sure you can cast your ballot correctly without a hitch. A lot of time and money is being expended to make sure your vote gets counted—correctly. Cool. Neat. Right on. Awesome!

Value of life

A settlement of $4.5 million in a wrongful death suit avoided a Lake' County jury deciding the value of a seven-year-old boy's life who died in a tragedy involving a visit to the dentist to remove two impacted teeth. Complications arose in the office of a Gurnee oral surgeon. The boy died in Children's Hospital, Milwaukee, after three days. Atty. Patrick A. Salvi, who represented the parents, said the case involved carelessness, deception and cover-up. The payment by an insurance company and the dentist was the largest pre-trial out of court settlement for a death in Lake County history.

True story

A strong streak of kleptomania; as exhibited by departing aides in the Clinton White House, was exhibited early on in the former. president's first term. A brigade of 20 somethings was dispatched! to clear a path for the president's participation in the Normandy Invasion commemoration. The Clinton juvenile loyalists with VIP status were quartered aboard a Navy aircraft carrier off the coast of France. When they left the ship so did a large quantity of expensive monogrammed linens::and towels. The story this column got as gospel described how the White House was billed for the perloined Navy goods because there was no ready fund aboard ship to purchase replacements... Whether the Clinton White House ever ponied up was not related. Americans acquainted with disappeared White House furnishings and missing china from an Air Force airplane upon the departure of the Clintons are wondering if taxpayers ever will be able to recoup the losses.

Then and now

A gifted young west coast photographer has produced a book of then and now photographs to delight anyone who ever has visited San Diego, Calif., especially the many Lake County Navy families stationed there. George Ross Jezek's research went back 100 ` years to assemble historic photographs of the nation's sixth largest city. Then he spent several years taking new photos from the same perspective to produce a beautifully printed book of 70 pairs of photographs. Jezek has traveled to 28 countries on commercial assignments. He's giving thought to doing then and now books in other cities. A personal note: Jezek's father is a college classmate and we have known the talented photographer since boyhood.

One man's family

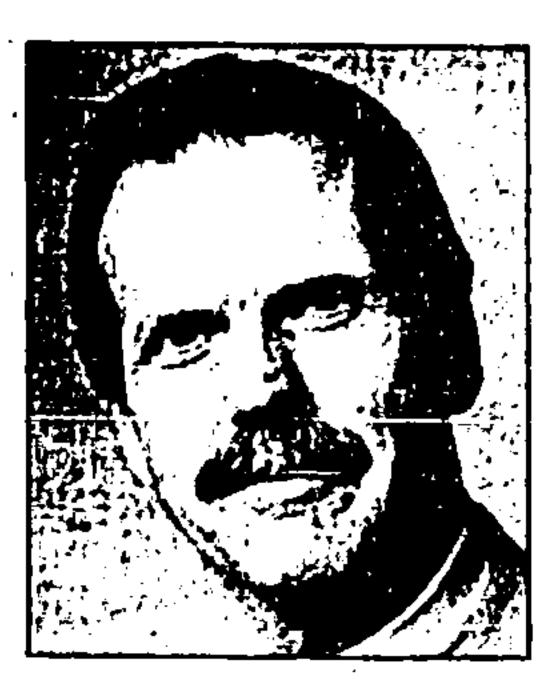

Even at her tender age, grand-daughter Nikki has learned that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. At a preschool benefit bake sale, Nikki used her allowance to stock up on goodies, but she also purchased a lemon loaf cake for gramps. Shrewed young lady.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

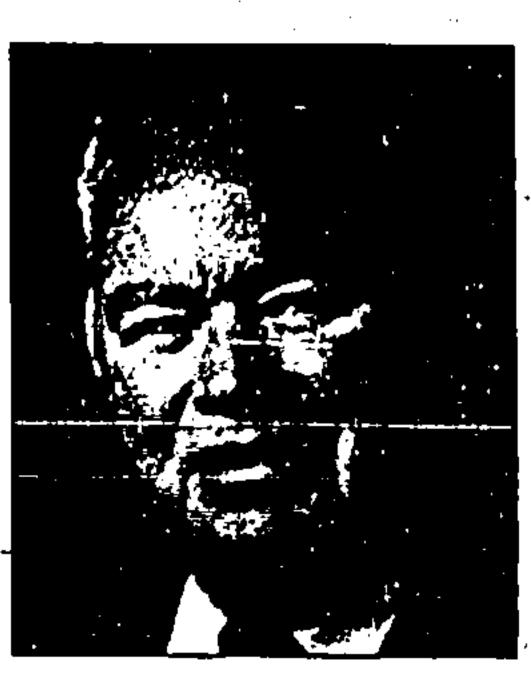

Shineflug: Keeping tabs on mayoral competition.

McRae: Behind the Steven Powell Mayoral "machine."

Schullen: Pushing for hefty county board pay raises.

RT. "Mike" Graham: High legal bills are the cost of open space.

'Clean house', anti-union campaigns underway

aso Maravellas, prominent west Lake County restaurateur' and civic activist, is putting together a "clean" house" campaign in his bid for mayor of Antioch.

A former one-term trustee, Maravellas is running as an independent against Mayor Marilyn Shineflug, who is regarded as a strong prospect for re-election. Maravellas has been critical of the Shineflug administration.

With his promise to overhaul Antioch municipal operations, staff members reportedly are getting jittery about Maravellas' plans.

Anti-Powell buzz

An extensive whispering campaign with an anti-union overtone already is underway regarding the candidacy for mayor of Mundelein Trustee Steven Powell. The first term trustee makes no secret about his affiliation with a major Chicago union headed by his father and where he is employed in an executive capacity. Powell foes see sinister forces at work with his supporters including former Mayor Colin McRae. The buzz is that Trustee Ira Kosova was talked out of running for mayor to give Powell a clear shot at incumbent Mayor Marilyn Sindles. This battle royale is just getting started.

Finger question

Regulars at Gurnee council meetings are still talking about actions of Trustee Tom Chamberlain, who engaged in a heated exchange with a spectator after adjournment. Mike Seger, an unemployed truck driver due to disability, said Chamberlain chased him down a hallway and thrust an accusatory finger in his face and berated him. Seger said he spoke out at the meeting to "protect" Mayor Dick Welton. "Chamberlain's been on a witchhunt against the mayor and I guess he took offense to my remarks."

Up front

County Board Rep. John Schullen (R-Libertyville) was only too happy to "front" a proposal to get Forest Preserve Commissioners a $4,000 pay raise. After fumbling an effort to get Carol Calabresa re-elected, Forest Preserve president which angered many board Republicans, Schulien figured he could get back in good graces by "carrying" the pay hike plan. If approved (wanna take a bet?), $5,000 would be established commissioner pay in addition to the $30,000 they get as County Board members.

Back for more

Deerfield Mayor Bernard Forrest is running hard for his ninth term, the undisputed king of Lake County mayors. Forrest has opposition. Who cares? His popularity is legendary and he's rated a shoo-in for re-election.

Crane rumor

The kooky political season has started already. Crane for governor. Honest! Party Lines heard this as gospel, not gossip. Veteran Congressman Phil Crane (R-Wauconda) is known not to ever have expressed any interest in state politics. Maybe the rumor was started by one of the wannabees thinking about succeeding Crane who has served for three decades.

First voter

Don Weakley, Waukegan political leader, had the honor of casting the first official ballot on Lake County's new optical scanning voting equipment. He just happened to be in the County Clerk's office the day absentee voting began.

Battling bills

Patrick Connors, Libertyville Township political activist and long-time critic of Supervisor R.T. "Mike" Graham served notice that he intends to make excessive legal fees an issue in the April 3 election. The township legal bill runs about $120,000 per year, about 50 times the legal fee budget of many county townships. You read that correctly. Graham argues that the township pays more for legal services because of its Open Space district and other initiatives.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Attendance question

n the last election, I ran against John Schulien for the Lake County Board District 13 position and made note of his very poor attendance record of regular and committee meetings of the Board. Hew admitted his new state position as director of the Kiley Development Center caused him to miss meetings, but in the future he would be more responsible in his attendance.

You can imagine my shock when I read Schulien missed the first regular meeting of the newly organized Lake County Board in January. While his absence at this meeting bothered me greatly, I did not feel compelled to write to you until I read about his contribution to the first meeting of the new year for the Lake County Forest Reserve Board.

At the aforementioned meeting, John Schulien suggested the Lake County Forest Reserve Board consider a $5,000 per year salary for their services as members. This $5,000 increase would be in addition to the $30,000 per year salary they currently receive for their dual roles as Lake County Board members and Lake County Forest Reserve Board members. These are part-time positions.

If proposing a pay raise is John Schuliens' major contribution to the respective County Boards, maybe we as taxpayers were better served when Schulien did not attend the meetings. Also, Schulien is chairman of the Lake County Republican Party and I must raise the question whether he is accurately representing his party's agenda when he requested this pay raise. I cannot believe that only Democrats like myself are asking this question, but others must also be questioning his priorities.

Clinton was right to keep the dog ill Clinton didn't accept my advice about his 3-year-old chocolate labrador, Buddy. Last month, I suggested the Clintons leave Buddy at the White House to be adopted by the George W. Bushes and befriended by their dog, Spot.

Young dogs need room to run, I reasoned, and Buddy and his new buddy, Spot, could romp together on the spacious South Lawn and take naps in the West Wing.

Now that he's no longer president, Clinton apparently doesn't feel it's necessary to read my column. Last week he moved to his new home in Chappaqua, N.Y., and took Buddy along.

I now realize that was the right decision. Dogs are pack animals and the Clintons are Buddy's pack. Gosh, if left at the White House the devoted dog might have ventured out on his own, looking for Chappaqua and his family, 250 miles away.

Every now and then we hear in the news about a dog or cat that travels long distances, via some sixth sense, to find the family that moved away and left it behind.

A few years ago Sam, a Yorkshire terrier, apparently hiked 840 miles from Colorado to San Diego, Calif., to find his family living on the same street he had known as a pup, but a mile away from the former home.

When the Ray Foltz family decided to move back to California they gave Sam to Colorado people who had answered their ad. Several months later in San Diego there was scratching at the door by a scraggly, emaciated mutt.

THE PFARR CORNER

Jerry Pfarr

"It's Sam!" exclaimed 5-year-old Amy Foltz.

"It can't be," said Ray.

They didn't let the dog in; so Sam spent the night under the fairfilly car. The next day stood boy recalled that Shep never met a freight Sam established his identity by performing familiar tricks and submitting as evidence his oddly clipped tail.

"His paws were all worn out," said Foltz, and he was suffering from malnutrition and 🧀 muscle spasms." But for breakfast that morning he had a porterhöuse steak to help begin his recovery.

There's also an old story about Bobby, a terrier who lived in the 1800s. He was the best friend of a Scottish shepherd named John Gray. When Gray died he was buried in Greyfriars Churchyard in Edinburgh.

The day after the funeral Bobby appeared at his master's grave. He stayed there, sleeping on the grave every night for the next 14 years. His story spread and tourists flocked to the churchyard to see the amazing little dog. Bobby died in 1872 and was buried next to John Gray. Today, a bronze statue of Bobby sits upon a drinking fountain for dogs.

A few years ago, more than 200 people attended a ceremony in Fort Benton, Mont., marking the 50th anniversary of the death of Shep, a faithful sheepdog who waited at a train station for his dead master to return.

Shep's vigil began in 1936 when he watched baggage men load the casket carrying his master onto a train.

For the next six years, until he died, the dog met each of the four daily Great Northern passenger trains that arrived in the Montana town.

A town elder who watched the vigil as a train, only the passenger kind that took his master's body away.

Seniors Rinella, Bacehowski reflect on careers at CHS

By STEVE PETERSON Staff Reporter

It was the winter of 1997-98.

A group of freshmen girls reported to practice at Carmel High School, ready to see how they might contribute.

Four years later, two players remain from that group. They are seniors Kelly Bacchowski and Sam Rinella. They have known each other since the middle of grade school at St. Gilbert in Grayslake, and both knew they would always enroll at the Mundelein Catholic school.

"I knew I would always go to Carmel, I remember coming here for grade school basketball camps," Rinella said.

Bacehowski's decision was made easier by older brothers and other family members who had graduated from CHS.

Both were somewhat taken aback by the fact, even with a long post-season tourney run, their playing days are numbered.

"I'll play intramurals; I will miss the game," Bacehowski said of next year.

The two said they did not know what happened to the basketball interests of the other Class of 2001 as ninth-graders.

The two seniors have helped the 17-win Corsairs club stay together. There is nothing like a nine-game win streak and surviving last year's bug-a-boo, the post-holiday blues.

"We have a lot of dinners, get togethers. We had a party at Christmas," Bacehowski said. "Fenwick," the two said in unison when asked about the toughest team they had played.

CHS girls basketball is in good hands with the talented juniors and high-scoring Caitlin Krombach leading the way next year. The seniors knew of Caitlyn Krombach as early as when they were in the Playing three teams ranked now or earlier in the season could be a tough task for any girls basketball squad.

There have been some ups and downs for the seniors. Both are in the starting lineup, but Carmel's rotation system gives eight or nine players a chance to play.

Against Benet, Carmel's girls basketb •ll team *met that challenge for 16 minutes before fading in the second half against Benet Academy. A 2-20 shooting slump did the Corsairs in during the second half as Benet cruised to a 52-30 win.

"We played a great first half. In the second half, we were tired. We cane out fired up emotionally against Marian Catholic and won and came out fired up against Fenwick. But in the second half against Benet, our legs got tired," said Carmel coach John Ryan.

Junior Christine Martinson and freshman standout Krombach led the Corsairs with 10 points each on this Wednesday night...

Carmel led at times in the first quarter, before trailing 16-12 after one. It was a respectable 28-21 at halftime as a 10-7 run stemmed the tide in the visitors' favor. The third quarter was all Benet (20-4, 6-1). in a 12-4 romp that extended the lead to 20 points. Krombach was being guarded by senior Amanda Kammes. Kammes was one of the toughest desenders Krombach has seen, Ryan said. Benet had three players reach double figures, led by Jenny Callan's 16 points.

Still the Corsairs (17-6, 5-3 East Suburban Catholic) have had a 17-win season with three games to go in the regular season. The Jan. 31 game against St. Viator was a special one for seniors Bacehowski and Rinella.

"They are our hardest workers. They are the role models. Kelly plays defense on the perimeter and Sam can play anywhere. She guards the first or second-leading scorer. We put Megan Lick on Erin Lawless of Fenwick early, then Sam and Sam held her own in rebounds," Ryan said.

While much has been made of Krombach and her talents with 15 points per game average, and talented juniors contributing many minutes, the contributions of seniors are not lost on Ryan.

"This is Kelly's second year on the varsity and Sam's third year. They are very special kids. With seniors, there is always more immediacy. They realize it is almost over," Ryan said.

Both started against Benet, as Bacehowski is a 5-5 guard and Rinella is a 5-8 swing position player. Both played their grade school basketball at St. Gilbert in Grayslake.

The Corsairs faced Deerfield and St. Viator and Benet before having some time off before the Feb. 13 regional clash with Wauconda in Mundelein.

"The kids will comeback," Ryan vowed after the loss to Benet.

The two seniors will make sure of that.

GTAAA NEWS, NOTES

Basketball

Grant Junior Bulldogs have three teams that compete in an 18-game schedule throughout Lake and McHenry county. There is a fifthsixth-grade team, a seventh-grade team, and an eighth-grade team. This league is made up of boys who plan on attending Grant Community High School. It is an opportunity to give those basketball lovers additional playing time after their school leagues are completed. Tryouts were conducted in late Dec. and early Jan. The Jr. Bulldogs first game was last week. The season continues through March.

The eighth-grade boys basketball of the Mundelein feeder program claimed third-place in the 16-team Stevenson Tournament.

In the third-place game against the host Patriots, Mundelein got 20 points, seven rebounds and seven steals to lead the Mustangs to a 45-33 victory. Jake Gaebler chipped in with nine points, six rebounds and three steals and Matt Tye added seven points and a steal.

In the semi-final game, Glenbrook South slipped by the Mustangs 30-27. Gaebler tallied 15 points, . three rebounds and two steals and Holthaus added six points, four rebounds and three steals.

Earlier in the week, the Jr. Mustangs edged Stevenson as Gaebler pumped in 20 and John Hernandez nine for the victors. Holthaus added six points and Wollberg and Wilhelm five each for Mundelein, now 9-1 overall on the young season.

Sports Digest An ASEP Coaches Clinic will be held in Rockford on Feb. 3 at the Best Suites for anyone interested in becoming a certified coach on the middle or high school level. The successful compltion of the ASEP leader level program is required by the Illinois High for the ballplayers of the area. The camp teaches the skills and techniques of hitting, pitching, catching, fielding, base running and bunting. Each week features a specialized aspect and skill with qualified instructors who instruct in that training for the week. Hitting drills are done each week. This clinic is the perfect spot for the ballplayers to practice their skills, to perfect individual techniques, to increase their knowledge of the game and to participate in their own "spring training" for the 2001 baseball season. This year Lake County Baseball's winter training camp will be held at Wilmot elementary School gym in Deerfield instead of Fort Sheridan. There are still a few openings in the Saturday 12 noon-1:30 p.m. session and the 1:30-3 p.m. session and on Sunday from 10:30 a.m.-noon.

Head instructor for the camp is the director of Lake County Baseball, Coach Art Mansavage. His son Mac Mansavage and other college ballplayers, coaches and scouts from the area, will assist him. Many of the instructors are from Triton College which is rank seventh in the country. The camp sessions will be limited in size in order to maintain an optimum, ratio of instructors to campers. For more information on the winter training camp, contact Lake County baseball at 945-9606.

If you are interested in becoming a member of a Lake County Chief's Travel baseball team, contact Lake County baseball for more information and a tryout date. Call 945-9606.

CLC SPORTS ROUNDUP

The week of Jan. 26 Men's Basketball

CLC played an excellent game against the number 10 team in the country, Waubonsee, but still came up short 84-83.

The Lancers (6-14, 1-3 Skyway) were down by one after two Waubonsee free throws with seven seconds left, when a Jim Nilles (11 points, four rebounds, four assists) shot at the buzzer rimmed out.

Andy Yarc led the team in scoring with 20. Aaron Coleman (19 points, four rebounds), Quinton Bolton (15 points, eight rebounds) and Jimichael Slaby (11 points, four assists, four rebounds, four steals) also had solid perforfor mances Lancers.

Women's Basketball

CLC won just their second game of the year after a 71-68 win over Triton College.

A Stephanie Cripps (16 points) basket gave the Lady Lancers the lead with 17 second left and two free throws from Stacey Haseman sealed the victory for CLC (2-20).

Stacle Peterson led the team in scoring with 17 and Jessica Gutierrez added 16 points.

CLC's poor free-throw shooting (9-18) cost them another possible win over Moraine Valley in a close 70-66 loss.

Cripps led the team in scoring with 18. Peterson scored 15, Gutierrez had 14 and Kristen Pagano chipped in with 12 points.

The week of Jan. 22 Men's Basketball

The Lancers won their first Skyway conference game in two years after defeating McHenry 97-94 in double-overtime. CLC was down 14 points with 11 minutes left in regulation and leading scorer Jim Nilles on the bench with four fouls but the Lancers staged a comeback to tie the game at 71 at the end of regulation.

· CLC was down six points with just 14 second left in the first overtime and Nilles, also their leading outside shooter, had fouled out in regulation. However, Jimichael Slaby (33 points, five rebounds) hit two of his seven three-pointers, including a 30-footer at the buzzer, to send the game into double over-

The Lancers pulled away in the second extra session on free throws from Andy Yarc (20 points, nine rebounds, nine assists, three steals), Rickey Higgins (12 points, seven assists, three rebounds, three steals) and Aaron Gallego. Aaron Coleman (22 points, 13 rebounds) and Quinton Bolton (seven points, 10 rebounds) also had solid performances.

The win also gave CLC (6-13, 1-2 Skyway) two consecutive wins for the first time in three years.

Women's Basketball

The Lady Lancers' dismal season continued with an 82-31 loss to McHenry in which CLC shot just 17 percent from the field and a 64-31 loss to Olive-Harvey that dropped CLC's record to 1-18, (0-3 Skyway) on the season. Kristen Pagano had nine points in the loss to Olive-Harvey.

Athlete of The Week

Andy Yarc had an outstanding week in two consecutive wins over Barat and McHenry, marking the first consecutive wins for the Lancers in three years.

Against Barat, Yarc had 16 points, 12 assists, five rebounds and four steals. In a game against McHenry, he tallied 20 points, nine assists, nine rebounds and three steals.—Rob Backus contributed to this report.

SoxFest Feb. 2-4 at Hyatt Regency

Believe it or not, baseball is right around the corner! And what better way to get into the spirit by attending the 10th Annual SoxFest Fan Convention at the Chicago Regnecy Hotel Feb.

New Sox players Sandy Alomar, Jr. and Royce Clayton headline Sox players attending this year's event. This year, the 'good guys' will thank fans for their support in 2000, while fans will have the opportunity to meet members of the American League Central champions.

Other players scheduled to appear during the weekend's festivities include American League Manager of The Year Jerry Manuel, third base coach Wallace Johnson and current Sox players Harold Baines, James Baldwin, Joe Crede, Ray Durham, Bob Howry, Paul Konerko, Jeff Liefer, Josh Paul, Herbert Perry, Jon Rauch, Kip Wells and Kelly Wunsch.

Prior to SoxFest Opening Ceremonies Fri., Feb. 2, fans will be invited to autograph the club's AL Central Division Championship flag, which will be raised at Comiskey Park on opening day (April 6) when the Sox take on Detroit.

Opening ceremonies will take place at approximately 5 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom, East Tower of the Hyatt Regency Chicago.

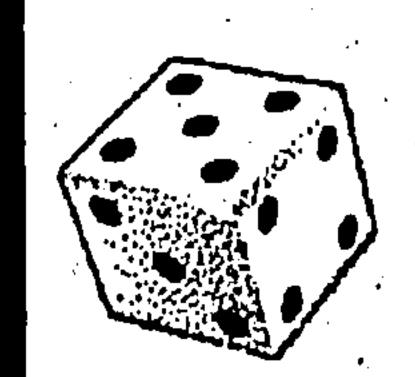

In addition to autograph signings, seminars and interactive skills sessions with current White Sox players, SoxFest will feature autograph sessions and/or seminars with former Sox stars including Bill Melton, Minnie Minoso, Billy Pierce and Bill "Moose" Skowron along with Sox broadcasters Ed Farmer, Hawk Harrelson, Darrin Jackson and John Rooney. General manager Ken Williams, senior director of scouting Duane Shaffer, director of player development Bob Fontaine and executive assistant to the general manager Roland Hemond will also participate in the weekend's festivities.

SoxFest visitors can also visit the White Sox Kids' Corner, purchase genuine White Sox merchandise and memorabilia from the White Sox Garage Sale and receive free skills instruction from Sox players and White Sox Training Center instructors.

Regular admission is $30 for a weekend pass or $15 per person for a one-day pass. Tickets are available through Ticketmaster phone lines at (312) 831-1769, online at whitesox.com, at the Comiskey Park Box Office or any Ticketmaster ticket center. For further information, fans can also call the SoxFest hotline at (312) 565-0769.

Bone marrow transplant specialist joins team at Cancer Treatment Centers of America

idwestern Regional Medical Center President and CEO Roger Cary has announced a new hematologist joining the Cancer Treatment Centers of America (CTCA) staff in Zion.

Dr. Anastasios Raptis MD, FACP, Ph.D joined the CTCA staff Jan. 2, 2001 as director of the bone marrow transplant program for CTCA. Raptis comes to Zion with a litany of accomplishments in his specialty. and was most recently the assistant professor of medicine for Rush University at the Rush Cancer Institute, section of bone marrow transplant and cell therapy. He was also a practicing physician at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center in Chicago.

"Attracting someone of Dr. Raptis' stature speaks volumes for what he saw in our program. His presence also raises the bar on our existing exceptional staff of oncologists in multiple disciplines," Cary said.

Raptis, 44, a native of Greece, came to the United States in 1986 as a visiting fellow for post doctoral research in the clinical endocrinology branch at the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md. He completed his degree in the school of medicine at the University of Ioannina, Greece, after coming to the States. His post-doctoral work was completed with the same university in 1996. Raptis did not start his medical career as a doctor of medicine but rather as a dentist, following in the footsteps of his father. He practiced dentistry during 22 months of service with the Grecian Army, then went directly into medical school.

Any son of a father respected in his profession would not be surprised by the reason Raptis took up dentistry. And though his career path would have been exceptional in his father's field, he wanted something different.

"My father convinced me to take dentistry. But I did not like it so much because it was merely technical. Instead, I wanted an intellectual challenge," Raptis said.

A medical career in research fulfilled that desire for Raptis and his patient contact has only served to augment it. At the much larger teaching facility since 1998, Raptis made the move to a specialty clinical focus for quality of life as well as professional issues.

"Midwestern Regional Medical Center is a much more focused hospital with a good oncology patient population. Clinical research and patient focus can be reconciled here, "Raptis said, "I have the advantage to apply information from the bench to the bedside."

Cary agrees.

"We are a patient-first hospital. But we also have top-notch oncologists in their respective fields who understand that patientfirst means treatment with a number of disciplines beyond the purely clinical whether it be nutrition, physical therapy or pastoral care. Dr. Raptis embodies our well-rounded approach and because of that, the patients are the winners with his addition to the staff," Cary said.

Dr. Raptis' practice includes the ongoing treatment of malignant hematologic diseases including lymphoma, leukemia and multiple myeloma, as well as performing. bone marrow transplants for those diagnoses. He also performs diagnosis for potential breast and ovarian cancers.

Raptis is married to Hariklia Efthimiou and has two daughters, Elena, 14 and Nepheli, 4.

Founded in 1988, Cancer Treatment Centers of America (CTCA) manages cancer hospitals, oncology practices and outpatient hospital-based cancer programs that employ a comprehensive, holistic approach to traditional cancer treatment to empower patients to fight their cancer while maintaining a high quality of life. In addition to medically advanced cancer treatments such as surgery, radiation and chemotherapy, CTCA offers complementary treatments, including naturopathy, therapeutic nutrition, psychological and spiritual support, and oncology rehabilitation. CTCA programs and facilities are accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, The American College of Surgeons, and the American College of Pathology, among others. CTCA's Midwestern Regional is the only hospital in Illinois to receive back-to-back accreditation with commendation by JCAHO.

CTCA supports progressive cancer research through its affiliation with the Cancer Treatment Research Foundation, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. CTCA serves cancer patients worldwide primarily at its hospitals in Zion, Illinois and Tulsa, Oklahoma. Other facilities are located in Goshen, Indiana; Portsmouth, Virginia; and Seattle, Washington. For more information about CTCA, call toll-free 1-800-FOR-HELP (800/367-4357), or visit the Web site,

A lifetime of health smiles for today's children

The way children care for their bodies today will have an impact on their health years from now. The good news for parents is that preventive dental care has greatly improved the oral health of American children. It's now possible for many children to reach adulthood without ever experiencing tooth decay.

February is National Children's Dental Month and the Illinois State Dental Society has these tips for parents and caregivers:

•Take your child to see the dentist regularly, beginning by the child's first birthday. •Put only water in a child's naptime or bedtime bottle to prevent baby bottle tooth decay. •Start brushing the child's teeth with water as soon as the first tooth appears. Start flossing when two of the child's teeth begin to touch.

 Make certain you child gets the right amount of fluoride needed for decay-resistant teeth. Ask your dentist how this can be done.

 And ask your dentist about dental sealants, a thin protective barrier that shields the chewing surface to back teeth against tooth

Keeping baby's smile healthy

If you have a new baby, you may not realize how important it is to care for the child's baby, or primary, teeth. The Illinois State Dental Society warns parents that although a child's primary teeth will eventually be replaced with permanent ones, baby teeth are critical for proper chewing, speaking and appearance. Without proper care, some children can develop serious tooth decay by their their birthday.

Good oral health practices should begin in infancy and continue throughout adult life. In your child's early years, you must provide this care. Later you will need to instruct, monitor and motivate your child to help maintain good oral health habits. Attitudes and habits established at an early age are critical in maintaining. good oral health throughout life. Good intentions, harsh words, lost friends

Hi Dr. Singer,

My daughter is 8 and seems to have a problem expressing herself. She comes on like a buildozer. Many of the kids in our neighborhood and at school tend to shy away from her because she can be brash and brazen at best and really nasty at worst. Even though it seems that she has the best intentions at heart, she still comes on too strong and offends people. What I mean by good intentions is that she might tell someone that something they chose to wear doesn't look right together. She does it to help, but comes. across as very insulting and harsh. This is losing her friends and I really don't think she understands why. How can I help her to be more tactful in the way she communicates with people. I've tried to explain it to her, but it doesn't seem to help. G.L.

Dear G.L.

There are several reasons people can be nasty to others. Since I don't know you personally, there is no way for me to specifically say why your daughter is doing this, but it can be several things. Three reasons come to my mind right now. First reason: The person saying these things can be feeling insecure for some reason and that insecurity is coming out at other people in the form of criticism. The second thing that can happen is that the person has learned to communicate that way through watching others in his or her environment who have gained power using those types of behaviors. The third possibility is that the person is truly trying to be helpful, but doesn't quite know how to sound helpful without being negative. Which one of these your daughter is, will be more familiar to you. Before you can determine what to do about it, you need to know which one of these reasons is the problem. If it's insecurity, you might want to consider counseling for your daughter. Call me and I can set up a consult with you.

In general, it might be good to go over

PARENT'S PLACE

Dr. Sherri Singer

with your daughter that age old adage, "If you don't have something nice to say, don't say anything." Sometimes that is hard to do. I would suggest that you talk to your daughter about this and find out why she has said the things she has. Make it specific to a certain situation so she can tell you her intentions. If you find that it is insecurity based or jealously based, you can then deal with that issue which will help to clear up her communications. You might want to do that with a therapist so that you can get to the bottom of things quickly. If It is imitation of someone in your lives that is doing the same thing and getting power for it, it's harder, because you are then getting into, "Do as I say, not as I do." This is very confusing for kids. It might be worthwhile for you to take a good look at all the adults in your daughter's world and see if any of them are, in fact, very critical. Some people actually feel that they are showing love through criticism. My Grandmother, God rest her soul, used to have a phrase she called, "Constructive Criticism." She truly, to the core of her being, felt that she was showing love through those words. I knew that, which is why I was able to deal with it well. Others in my family had a more difficult time with it. She clearly loved us more than she loved herself, but her communications would be somewhat harsh at times. Your daughter may have very good intentions, but the hard part is, the other kids don't know that, and end up not getting the message. If there is someone in your family who does this behavior, it might be wise to ask them to not do it in front of the child or to minimize it.

No matter which option it is that is caus-. ing this, it obviously needs to get resolved. I would suggest some role playing between you and your daughter. Role play a situation that goes wrong and then have her generate ideas of how she or you could have said something differently so as to help the other person feet cared about. Role play often so it becomes a habit. One thing we know is that people generally gravitate toward those who are interested in them and those who make them feel good. If you can role play with your daughter and teach her this skill while investigating why she is having trouble with this in the first place, you will more than likely take care of the problem.

Like I mentioned earlier, if you feel insecure doing this by yourself, I can help! Let me know! It is so important that you get on top of this now because your daughter is at a socially vulnerable age. You want her reputation to blossom as she grows older, not to shrivel. Good luck!

Là Casa offers training options to fit volunteer's busy schedules

Recognizing that volunteers need flexible training programs that fit into their busy personal and professional schedules, The Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault (LaCASA) is now taking applications for "Evening" volunteer training which will begin March 5th. Future weekend and weekday training will also be available to accommodate other busy schedules.

LaCASA needs people (18+) from all across Lake County to train as advocates for rape and incest survivors, as well as to provide crisis intervention and prevention education. Women of color and bi-lingual women are especially needed. Volunteers will participate in an outstanding, comprehensive 60-hour volunteer training at La-CASA/Zacharias Center located at 4275 Grand Avenue in Gurnee.

LaCASA volunteers may select shifts that fit their schedule. Volunteer advocates are needed 24 hours a day/7 days a week to be "on call" in the following programs:

 Hotline Advocacy - to provide emotional support, information and community resources to sexual assault survivous and loved ones.

 Medical Advocacy - to respond to Lake County hospitals when a sexual assault survivor is present.

 Court Advocacy - to observe sexual assault cases at the Lake County Courthouse.

•Child Assault Prevention (CAP) to teach children about "personal safety" issues and hot to protect themselves from being victimized throughout their lives.

 Child Care to supervise children while their non-offending parents participate in LaCASA's counseling programs.

To apply to be a volunteer, call: Deirdre Simpson-Rhoads, LaCASA's Volunteer Coordinator at 244-1187.

Are you concerned about the water you're drinking?

Some facts about water:

- Our bodies are almost 70% water
- Water is essential to good health and the water we drink has a profound effect on us in more ways than we realize.
- The EPA has identified more than 80 unwanted substances that may be present in public water systems.
- Many people are purchasing bottled drinking water.

The NIKKEN PiMag Water System

A revolutionary alternative --The only drinking water system with

Pi Technologies - Magnetic Technology - Microfine Ultrafiltration

Benefits of the PiMag Water System:

- PiMag oxygen-rich water contains the same bio-energy as the water in our body.
- Scientists refer to pi water as "living water" from the perceived effect it has on plants and other growing things.
- Block and granular carbon filters screen out common water contaminants.
- Nikken's ultrafine .1-micron filtration captures additional contaminants.
- Nikken magnetic technology has been added.
- The "pi" in PiMag comes from ceramic elements that impart essential minerals and the same energy found in other Nikken products which utilize far-infrared technology.
- The PiMag Water System is portable and easy to install.

Cost effective? YES

If you're buying bottled water -- this is a bargain!

Moving up? Here's sample of what to find, pay oving up. Those magic words spell excitement and fulfillment of dreams in home buyers, prospects of profit for builders and new customer for lenders.

In the Lakeland market, entire subdivisions are being planned and developed for families relocating to larger, more expensive homes.

The move-up market generally start somewhere about $240,000 for current prices levels and extends well beyond to the custom, luxury home market where the sky's the limit luxury home market where the sky's the limit.

What are move-up buyers looking for and what do they get?

Builders believe they'll find a variety of floor plans, three to four bedrooms, two and a half to three baths, full basements, attached two or three car garages with space funning from 2,500 to 3,500 square feet.

Palatine-based Concord Homes provided information on what move-up buyers can find with base prices ranging from $245,490 to $304,990.

The Concord Designer Series homes include separate living and dining rooms or a Great room, a family room, kitchen with preparation island and separate breakfast area, nine-foot, first-floor ceilings, volume ceilings in the master bedroom and bath, central air conditioning and a master bedroom suite with a walk-in closet and attached master bath.

One floor plan has a first-floor master suite. Several plans feature dual staircases, and the most popular floor plan comes standard with a three-car garage.

Options are available for additional bedrooms and baths, a first-floor guest suite, extended family room, nine-foot basement ceilings, rough-in plumbing for a basement bath, a three-car garage, master-bedroom sitting room and a loft.

"Many of our buyers are coming from areas where you just can't find homes of this size and quality in this price range. As a result, people are able to afford a lot of up-' grades," said Roger Mankedick, executive vice president of Concord.

Designer Series kitchens come with a self-cleaning oven/range, microwave, multi-cycle dishwasher, furniture-quality cabinetry, laminate countertops and no-wax vinyl flooring.

Baths have no-was vinyl flooring, furniture-quality vanities with cultured marble tops and integral bowls, ceramic tile tub and shower surrounds and mirrored medicine cabinets in full baths. Master bathrooms include a soaking tub and separate shower, ceramic tile flooring and raised, double-bowl vanities.

Exterior features include aluminum siding with cedar trim; front, side and rear window grids; garage coach lights and sodded front, side and rear yards.

For home buyers preparing to relocate from entry level housing, builders have ample supples of larger homes with curb appeal excitement and a wide array of custom interior features. Move-up homes can be complete to landscaping and sodding front, side and rear yards.

'Tall walls' answer storage problems

Space to display a lifetime's collection of art and photographs is a high priority with many empty nesters who are downsizing from homes that have become too large for their needs to maintenance-free condominiums.

"In the process these couples are prepared to get rid of a log of 'stuff,' but cherished works of art are not among them," observes Helen Weiss, a principal of Weiss Development Corp, a pioneer condominium developer.

The solution, she says, is walls that are taller than standard height.

"Our wall heights at Village Green Condominiums in Lincolnshire are 8 feet, 8 inches, but you'd be amazed at how much more these extra height ceilings expand wall area to allow for displays of art and photography," says Weiss. "Taller walls also magnify the perception of space. And our penthouse units have rooms with 14-foot-high walls, where you can create a personal art gallery," she adds

Village Green Condominiums, opposite Flatlander's restaurant in downtown Lincolnshire, will include 108 luxury two-and two-bedroom + den residences in three mid-rise buildings in a gated community.

The appeal of Village Green Condominiums is an 8-acre property incorporating a landscaped European-style courtyard, ponds, sundecks and a large number of ornamental trees and shrubs. Together with large open spaces it will create a beautiful cohesive environment for the community, "another emptynester priority," Weiss said.

"Residents want to experience beauty from the outside in, for themselves and their visitors," said Weiss, "and that is what the site design will provide. The development plan provides charming views for many unit owners and the scenic bicycle and pedestrian links to the community's existing trail system will be an informal recreational amenity for all owners." Other recreational amenities will include an outdoor swimming pool with a sundeck, an exercise facility and a community room.

Remember When The Word "Service" Meant Something?

We remember when people took the time to' serve others. Our family has been helping families here for many years. As our town has grown, we have grown too, with more specialized services, such as out-of-town arrangements, pre-arrangements, cremations and a grief recovery program.

Even though we have grown, our dedication to service is still the same as it was years ago.

And, we think that's really something.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING CONCERNING THE INTENT OF THE BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS OF THE GURNEE PARK DISTRICT, LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS TO SELL $6,000,000 GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS (ALTERNATE REVENUE SOURCE)

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Gurnee Park District, Lake County, Illinois (the "District"), will hold a public hearing on the 20th day of February, 2001, at 7:00 o'clock P.M. The hearing will be held in the Viking Community Center, 4374 Grand Avenue, Gurnee, Illinois. The purpose of the hearing will be to receive public comments on the proposal to sell general obligation alternate bonds of the District in the amount of $6,000,000 for the payment of costs of constructing and equipping an outdoor family aquatic center.

By order of the Board of Park Commissioners of the Gurnee Park District, Lake County, Illinois.

DATED the 16th day of January, 2001.

/s/ Donna Kolar Secretary, Board of Park Commissioners, Gurnee Park District, Lake County, Illinois 0201A-3826-GP February 2, 2001

PUBLIC NOTICE NOTICE OF INTENT TO ISSUE BONDS AND RIGHT TO FILE PETITION

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to Ordinance No. 00/01-13 (the "Ordinance") adopted by the Board of Park Commissioners of the Gurnee Park District, Lake County, Illinois (the "District"), on the 16th day of January, 2001, the District intends to issue alternate bonds (the "Bonds"), in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $6,000,000, for the payment of costs of constructing and equipping an outdoor family aquatic center. The revenue source that will be pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the Bonds will be (i) proceeds received by the District from the issuance of its general obligation bonds or notes to the fullest extent permitted by law, including Section 15.01 of the Local Government Debt Reform Act of the State of Illinois, as amended, and Section 6-4 of the Park District Code of the State of Illinois, as amended, (ii) moneys received from the Village of Gurnee, Lake County, Illinois, pursuant to the Intergovernmental Agreement dated the 18th day of December, 2000, between said Village and the District and (iii) moneys lawfully available in the District's corporate fund. The intent is that said revenue source shall be sufficient and shall be applied to the payment of debt service on the Bonds so that taxes need not be extended for such payment. The District will levy ad valorem property taxes upon all taxable property in the District without limitation as to rate or amount to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds, which levy will be abated on an annual basis to the extent the Bonds are paid from other sources. A complete copy of the Ordinance follows this notice.

Notice is hereby further given that if a petition signed by 1,295 or more electors of the District is submitted to the Secretary of the Board of Park Commissioners of the District (the "Secretary") within thirty (30) days after the date of publication of this notice and the Ordinance, then the question of the issuance of the Bonds shall be submitted to the electors of the District at the general primary election to be held on the 19th day of March, 2002. The Circuit Court may declare that an emergency referendum should be held prior to said election date pursuant to the provisions of Section 2A-1.4 of the Election Code of the State of Illinois, as amended. If no such petition is filed with the Secretary within said 30-day period, the Bonds shall be authorized to be issued.

Dated this 16th day of January, 2001.

ORDINANCE NO. 00/01-13

An Ordinance authorizing the issuance of General Obligations Bonds (Alternate Revenue Source) of the Gurnee Park District, Lake County, Illinois, in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $6,000,000.

Whereas, the Gurnee Park District, Lake County, Illinois (the "District"), is a duly organized and existing Park District created under the provisions of the laws of the State of Illinois, and is now operating under the provisions of the Park District Code of the State of Illinois, as supplemented and amended (the "Park Code"); and

Whereas, the Board of Park Commissioners of the District (the "Board") has determined that it is advisable, necessary and in the best interests of the District to construct and equip an outdoor family aquatic center (the "Project"), all in accordance with the preliminary plans and estimate of cost heretofore approved by the Board and now on file in the office of the Secretary of the Board; and

Whereas, the cost of the Project, including legal, financial, bond discount, printing and publication costs, capitalized interest and other expenses, will be not less than $6,000,000 and there are insufficient funds on hand and lawfully available to pay such costs; and

Whereas, such costs are expected to be paid for from the proceeds of alternate bonds authorized to be issued at this time pursuant to the Local Government Debt Reform Act of the State of Illinois, as amended (the "Act"); and

Whereas, it is necessary and for the best interests of the District that the District undertake the Project and in order to raise the funds required therefore it will be necessary for the District to borrow an amount not to exceed $6,000,000 and in evidence thereof to issue alternate bonds in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $6,000,000, all in accordance with the Act; and

Whereas, the evenue source that will be pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the alternate bonds will be (i) proceeds received by the District from the issuance of its general obligation bonds or notes to the fullest extent permitted by law, including Section 15.01 of the Act and Section 6-4 of the Park Code, (ii) moneys received from the Village of Gurnee, Lake County, Illinois, pursuant to the Intergovernmental Agreement dated the 18th day of December, 2000, between said Village and the District and (iii) moneys lawfully available in the District's corporate fund: Now, Therefore, Be It Ordained by the Board of Park Commissioners of the Gurnee Park District, Lake County, Illinois, as follows:

Section 1: Incorporation of Preambles. The Board hereby finds that all of the recitals contained in the preambles to this ordinance are full, true and correct and does incorporate them into this ordinance by this reference.

Section 2: Determination To Issue Bonds. It is necessary and in the best interests of the District to undertake the Project in accordance with the preliminary plans and estimate of cost as described, and that for such purpose alternate bonds of the District are hereby authorized to be issued and sold from time to time in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $6,000,000, known as "General Obligation Bonds (Alternate Revenue Source)" of the District and bearing such series designation or designations as may be appropriate (the "Bonds").

Section 3. Publication. This ordinance, together with a notice in the statutory form, shall be published in the Gurnee Press, the same being a newspaper of general circulation in the District, and if no petition, signed by 1,295 electors, the same being equal to 7.5% of the registered voters in the District, asking that the issuance of the Bonds be submitted to referendum, is filed with the Secretary of the Board within thirty (30) days after the date of the publication of this ordinance and said notice, then the Bonds shall be authorized to be issued.

Section 4. Additional Ordinances. If no petition meeting the requirements of applicable law is filed during the petition period hereinabove referred to, then the Board may adopt additional ordinances or proceedings supplementing or amending this ordinance providing for the issuance and sale of the Bonds and prescribing all the details of the Bonds, so long as the maximum amount of the Bonds as set forth in this ordinance is not exceeded and there is no material change in the Project described here-In. Such additional ordinances or proceedings shall in all instances become effective Immediately without publication or posting or any further act or requirement. This ordinance, together with such additional ordinances or proceedings, shall constitute complete authority for the issuance of the Bonds under applicable law.

Section 5. Severability. If any section, paragraph, clause or provision of this ordinance shall be held invalid or unenforceable, the invalidity or unenforceability of such section, paragraph, clause or provision shall not affect any of the other provisions of this ordinance.

Section 6. Repealer. All ordinances, resolutions or orders, or parts thereof, in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance are to the extent of such conflict hereby repealed.

Adopted January 16, 2001.

PUBLIC NOTICE

LIBERTYVILLE Township Assessor, Peggy Freese would like to inform the Libertyville Township Senior residents that the 2001 Senior Homestead Exemption Renewal Forms have recently been mailed. Please be sure to complete this form and return it as soon as possible. Only the person whose name appears on the form needs to sign the form even though you both may be 65. If you have applied for the Senior Homestead Exemption and have not yet received your form, please contact our office as soon as possible.

Any seniors who have not previously applied may do so if you will turn 65 years old by December 31, 2001 and have owned and lived in your home since January 1, 2001. You may apply at anytime during the year.

The exemption deducts $2000 from your property's assessed valuation before the tax rate is applied. To apply for this exemption you need to bring proof of age, either a driver's license or birth certificate, and proof of ownership, a warranty deed or title policy showing you in title. Please bring this information to the Township Assessor's office at 359 Merrill Court, Libertyville. The office is open Monday through Friday 8:30 to 4:30. Only one spouse may have the exemption, therefore only one application need be made.

Another exemption you may qualify for is the Senior Freeze Exemption. To qualify for this you must be 65 years of age, own and live in your house, and have a total household income of $40,000 or less.

If you have any questions regarding either exemption, please call (847) 362-5900.

How to prepare for an Interview

By Scott T. Fleischmann

When I counsel people on the job search process, the final lesson is always on interview preparation. Going into an interview without preparing is akin to going to war without going through basic training. In fact, preparation is probably the most important part of the interview.

When you meet your potential new employer for an interview, you will want to give yourself every possible advantage to be the first choice for the open position. To that end, we will discuss six important categories of preparation to give you that advantage. However, these guidelines are general and there are occasional exceptions for specific circumstances. You need to match these guidelines to your situation.

Clothing-You should dress neathy and conservatively in loose litting clothing. Always dress in clothes that you think the interviewer (usually a E recruker and the hiring manager) would wear. If you are applying for an [] office job I suggest a dark blue or gray suit. (Yes, for women also.) If you 🙀 don't have a blue suit wear the most conservative outfit you have. Make sure 👺 your shoes are polished. This is one area where exceptions are possible. For 🔣 example, my daughter is a fashion designer. If she were applying for a job at Freaky Clothing Inc., I would tell her to design; make and wear clothing that is appropriate for that company.

Grooming.—In addition to normal daily hygiene here is a checklist to that will help you to look your best. Get a haircut. Make sure that you have your nails are trimmed and clean. If you are a woman conservative nail polish is acceptable on neatly trimmed nails. Wild nail designs or wild colors are inappropriate for an interview. If you are a man make sure you are cleanly shaven. If you wear a beard or mustache make sure it is neatly trimmed, preferably by a professional.

Know the Company—The more you know about the company that you are interviewing the better prepared you will be to answer questions in terms they can understand. Before the interview get the company's annual statement if they are publicly held. Look up their web site on the computer and go to the library to read as much as possible about their business.

Prepare Questions—I have a standard list of questions that I ask companles but then I prepare specific questions for each company I interview. These questions should address management style, corporate culture, and issues that will give you information you need to make a decision if a job offer is made.

Know your skills—Read your resume several times the night before the interview. Go over the specific illustrations you want to use for specific questions. Analyze your strengths and weaknesses. The more you recall about your past experiences the more comfortable you will be in the interview.

These are the five of the six basic preparation guidelines. Next week we will explore sixth guideline, preparing for the most commonly asked interview questions.

How To Survive The Job Search By Nancy Sakol

Q: I am working for (name withheld) right now and am feeling some strain over a lot of talk of our company doing major layoffs. The company I have overheard has plans to liquidate several divisions which will cause several hundred people to be without work. I don't know when this is planned for but I do think it is more than gossip. I know that I should be looking around now to change employers before the word comes down that I am among those being released. I do have some savings that I could live off of for a couple of months if the need arose. I was told by a friend that if a company lets you go, that they would also give their employees a few months worth of pay for the inconvenience. If that is true, then I wouldn't have to worry so much. How do I find out if this is true so I know what to expect? F.R.- Waukegan

A: Quite often when corporations release an employee, they may put together what is referred to as a "severance package" which is more or less a form of softening the blow, so-to speak. Some corporations offer weeks or months worth; of salary plus benefits until 4 specified date depending on the company, the position held by the employee and various other factors . . . some offer nothing at all. Please however, do not assume that your company will be so generous. Many corporations that are "downsizing" are more apt to be generous to a minimum of a couple of weeks pay and the knowledge that your insurance may be paid for a short time, yet possibly only through the end of the month. Corporations that provide insurance allow you the ability to opt for COBRA insurance, and upon your departure, will inform you of the cost (to you) for your insurance to continue. Now for the downside . . your company does not have to give you a severance package at all. Sometimes, the reason that they do not give out severance pay, may be for the same reason that the company is closing or downsizing . . . financial trouble. A major corporation that recently went belly-up laid off employees too numerous to mention. Out of the dozen plus employees that we interviewed at levels ranging from entry level to mid management we found each to have been released with nothing except vacation pay that may have been owed to them, and a note with the Information necessary regarding their COBRA insurance. One of those employees had 17 years vested. So please don't assume that a severance package is a given. It's not. If you suspect that your company is in the process of major layoffs, do not sit around waiting. Prepare yourself by searching for employment on your own time, while you have the luxury of still receiving a paycheck.

So you want to be a truck driver?

Truckdrivers

Truckdrivers are a constant presence on the Nation's highways and interstates, delivering everything from automobiles to canned foods. Due to their ability to link up with ships, trains, and airplanes, trucks usually make the initial pickup and final delivery of goods. Trucks carry nearly all goods at some point in their journey from producer to consumer.

Before leaving the terminal or warehouse, truckdrivers check their trucks for fuel and oil. They also inspect the trucks to make sure the brakes, windshield wipers, and lights are working and that a fire extinguisher, flares, and other safety equipment are aboard and in working order. Drivers make sure their cargo is secure and adjust their mirrors so that both sides of the truck are visible from the driver's seat. Equipment that does not work, is missing, or not loaded properly is reported to the dispatcher.

Once underway, drivers must be alert to prevent accidents. Because drivers of large tractor-trailers sit higher than cars, pickups, and vans, they can see farther down the road. They seek traffic lanes that allow them to move at a steady speed, while keeping sight of varying road conditions.

Working Conditions

Truckdriving has become less physically demanding because most trucks now have more comfortable seats, better ventilation, and improved ergonomically designed cabs. Although these changes make the work environment more attractive, driving for many hours at a stretch, unloading cargo, and making many deliveries can be tiring. Local truckdrivers, unlike long-distance drivers, usually return home in the evening. Some self-employed long distance truckdrivers who own and operate their trucks spend most of the year away from

Design improvements in newer trucks reduce stress and increase the efficiency of long-distance drivers. Many of the newer trucks are virtual mini-apartments on wheels, equipped with refrigerators, televisions, and bunks. Satellites and Global Positioning Systems (GPS) link many of these state-of-the-art vehicles with company headquarters.

Troubleshooting, directions, weather reports, and other important communications can be delivered to the truck anywhere in the country within seconds. Drivers can easily communicate with the dispatcher to discuss delivery schedules and courses of action in the event of mechanical problems. The satellite link-up also allows the dispatcher to track the truck's location, fuel consumption, and engine performance.

The U.S. Department of Transportation governs work hours and other working conditions of truckdrivers engaged in interstate commerce. For example, a long-distance driver cannot work more than 60 hours in any 7-day period. Federal regulations also require that truckers rest 8 hours for every 10 hours of driving. Many drivers, particularly on long runs, work close to the maximum time permitted because they are typically compensated by the number of miles or hours they drive. Drivers on long runs may face boredom, loneliness, and fatigue. Drivers frequently travel at night, on holidays, and weekends to avoid traffic delays and deliver cargo on time.

Local truckdrivers frequently work 50 or more hours a week. Many who handle food for chain grocery stores, produce markets, or bakeries work long hours starting late at night or early in the morning. Although most drivers have a regular route, some have different routes each day. Many local truckdrivers, particularly driver-sales workers, load and unload their own trucks. This requires considerable lifting, carrying, and walking each day.

Truckdrivers must cope with a variety of working conditions including variable weather and traffic conditions, boredom, and fatigue. Many truckdrivers, however, enjoy the independence and lack of supervision found in long-distance driving. Local truckdrivers often have regular routes or assignments that allow them to return home in the evenings.

Safety is a major concern of the trucking and warehousing industry. The operation of trucks, lifts, and other technically advanced equipment can be dangerous without proper training and supervision. Efforts are underway to standardize the training programs to make the drivers more efficient and effective truck operators. Truckdrivers already must adhere to federally mandated certifications and regulations. Federal mandates require drivers to submit to drug and alcohol tests as a condition of employment and more employers also require periodic checks while on the job.

The length of trips varies according to the merchandise being transported and its final destination. Local drivers provide regular service while other drivers make inter-city and interstate deliveries that take longer and may vary from job to job. The driver's responsibilities and assignments change according to the time spent on the road and the type of payloads transported.

Local drivers usually work more normal schedules and return home at the end of the day. They may deliver goods to stores or homes, or haul away dirt and debris from excavation sites. Many local drivers cover the same routes daily or weekly.

Long-distance truckdrivers often are on the road for long stretches of time. Their trips vary from an overnight stay to a week or more. On longer trips, drivers sometimes sleep in bunks in their cabs or share driving with another driver.

The trucking and warehousing industry provided more than 1.7 million wage and salary jobs in 1998. About half of the workers in the industry, 881,000, were truckdrivers. Other operators, fabricators, and laborers numbered 265,000, and another 285,000 workers were in various administrative support occupations. There were 50,000 bus and truck mechanics and diesel engine specialists; 56,000 blue-collar worker supervisors; 114,000 executives, administrators, and managers; and 34,000 marketing and sales workers.
